

DICK GALLOGLY MURDER CASE ENDS IN MISTRIAL; JURY STANDS SIX FOR ACQUITTAL, SIX FOR LIFE

Two Killed, Four Are Hurt as Trains Wreck Autos

2 CRASH VICTIMS BELIEVED DYING AT CITY HOSPITAL

Mrs. Maude Rowe Meets
Instant Death in One
Accident and Lester
Nash in Second.

STALLED MACHINE STRUCK BY TRAIN

E. K. Hardin, Who Was Injured in an Auto Accident Thursday, Dies Friday at Hospital.

Two persons, a man and a woman, were killed; three were so seriously injured that they are expected to die, and one was slightly hurt in two accidents, in which trains crashed into automobiles in and on the outskirts of Atlanta Friday afternoon and night. In addition to this, one auto accident victim who was injured Thursday died Friday.

The dead are:
Mrs. Maude Rowe, of 1725 Utoy road.
Lester Nash, of 119 Ormond street.
E. K. Hardin, 805 Carmel avenue.
Critically injured:
Mrs. Maude Mason, of 1725 Utoy road.
Michael De Latorre, 1150 Hardee street.
Miss Marguerite Carter, 589 Griffin street.
Slightly hurt:
Miss Ruby Howell, 790 Hemphill avenue.

Woman Is Killed.
One woman was killed and two other persons probably fatally injured as the result of a train-automobile crash shortly before 6 o'clock Friday night at the grade crossing at Campbellton road and Lee street.

Mrs. Maude Rowe, 1725 Utoy road, is dead, while Mrs. Maude Mason, of the same address, and Michael De Latorre, driver of the car, are in Grady hospital in a dying condition.

Darting out of the darkness directly into the path of the north-bound Dixie Limited, the sedan bearing the three was practically demolished. The train struck the middle of the automobile and tossed it to one side, while the locomotive itself stopped only five-car lengths from the crossing.

The crossing, which is said to have been the scene of a number of wrecks, is half-blind, due to a building which obscures vision of motorists approaching from the direction of Hapeville.

Engineer Don Wall said he saw the automobile appear suddenly out of the darkness into the path of his headlight when the locomotive was only a few feet away. Applying brakes and setting the engine in reverse he brought the train to a quick stop.

Victims Taken to Grady.
An ambulance rushed the two wounded persons to Grady hospital, while the body of Mrs. Rowe was taken to the funeral parlors of A. C. Hemphill & Sons.

Skulls of both injured victims were found to be fractured, with several lacerations about the face and head of Delatorre and with possible internal injuries.

According to the husband of Mrs. Rowe, the party was returning from Hapeville, where they had been on business.

Three pigs which had just been bought on the trip to Hapeville were

WAYCROSS ASKS HOOVER TO STOP ON RETURN HOME

Washington, February 1.—(By Staff Correspondent.)—In behalf of the mayor, county commissioners and local civic leaders of Waycross, Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, today sent an invitation to President-elect Hoover to stop over in that city on his return to Washington from Miami the latter part of this month.

It was made known to Mr. Hoover that citizens of south Georgia are anxious to have his attention directed to the Okefenokee swamp region with a view of having it made a national reserve.

RAILROADS SEEK GEORGIA FREIGHT RATE REVISIONS

Far Reaching Changes, If Granted, Will Affect
Many Important Commodities in State.

Far-reaching revisions in intrastate freight rates on many important commodities are asked in petitions from all carriers in Georgia, which will be heard by the public service commission on March 27. It was decided Friday by Chairman James A. Perry, of the commission.

The revisions asked will affect every point on every railroad in Georgia. They affect carload shipments of canned goods; both carload and less than carload shipments of paint and paint materials; all shipments of dried fruits and all shipments of fresh meats, packing house products, lard compounds and lard substance.

The carriers also ask for authority to cancel all less than carload commodity rates and to cancel all exceptions to the southern classification. They also seek approval for uniform diversion and reconsignment rules.

E. M. Price, rate expert of the commission, said he did not know whether the revisions sought are upward or downward as a whole, though there are instances of both increases and decreases.

Mr. Price said he makes it a practice not to go into the future of the petitions in such cases until after the meeting, in order that he may then analyze the requested changes with an open mind.

Mr. Price said, however, that the carriers state that their petitions are predicated on bringing intrastate rates in Georgia in line with intrastate rates on the same commodities, some of which rates are already prescribed by the interstate commerce commission.

The petitions are all brought by the Southern Freight association, which represents all carriers in the state, and are set for hearing on March 27, though it is expected that it will require at least two days to complete the hearing.

Copies of the petitions are now being made and will be mailed by the commission to the traffic representatives of the various trade bodies in the state, representing the shippers.

Foreman of Gallogly Jury Reports Agreement on Verdict Is Impossible

Their long sessions having brought no verdict a number of the Dick Gallogly murder trial jurors are here shown as they listened to their foreman tell Judge Virlyn B. Moore that their efforts to reach a definite decision had been fruitless. A few seconds later Judge Moore officially declared a mistrial, thanked the jury and dismissed it from the box almost exactly 24 hours after he had turned the case over to it Thursday night. From left to right in the front row are O. W. Settle, the foreman who has just answered in the negative to Judge Moore's query, "Have you arrived at a verdict, gentlemen?" W. H. Blair, Clyde Withers and C. R. Hall are seated in the front row while in the rear row are shown J. O. Mangum and S. S. Kiker. This picture was snapped by Kenneth Rogers, staff photographer.

CITY DEPARTMENTS ASK $24,178,033

With Only $8,000,000 Allowed by Law, Special Committee Will Cut All
Bond Fund Requests.

Requests of various departments of the Atlanta city government for participation in the proposed $8,000,000 bond issue to be offered to voters for ratification in March mounted to $24,178,033 Thursday night when needs of the construction department were added to the list already filed with City Controller B. Graham West.

The figure represents what it would take to meet the combined demands of all the various departments of the city government. A special committee, headed by Alderman Claude Ashby, of the fourth ward, will assist the finance committee in selecting the most urgent projects listed and will cut out those not absolutely necessary.

Construction department requests (led Thursday) called for $8,011,833.75 for sewers, $2,200,000 for new viaducts and repairs and reconstruction of those already built and $1,516,200 for street improvements.

Fire Department Asks $200,000.
The Atlanta fire department failed to recommend establishment of a new fire headquarters because of the great expense which would follow such a move in extending the signal system to a new building.

Only $200,000 was sought for the fire department. This contemplates four new stations in outlying districts.

Councilman Wiley L. Moore, of the seventh ward, and chairman of the finance committee, is out of the city, but on his return is expected to initiate a study of the city's needs as indicated by the requisitions.

In addition to the street, viaduct, sewer and fire requests made Friday other requests follow:
Schools, $5,000,000; Grady hospital, $2,000,000; auditorium, $1,500,000; parks, $1,000,000; police, $1,000,000; Battle Hill sanatorium, $750,000; sanitary department, $250,000; Car-

Hoover Lands 2nd Sailfish In Two Days

Deserts Favorite Pastime
To Talk Tariff Rest of Week.

Long Key, Fla., February 1.—(AP) President-elect Hoover today landed his second sailfish, a six-footer, weighing more than fifty pounds. This catch was made after a long struggle with another sailfish and Mr. Hoover's final defeat by a shark. The next president made his first strike early in the day and after battling 35 minutes had his prey almost to the boat when something happened, his line went straight out and was broken.

"A shark got him," Mr. Hoover exclaimed.

Mrs. Hoover accompanied her husband on his second day of fishing and took moving pictures of him as he battled with his two sailfish.

Associate Justice Harlan F. Stone, of the United States supreme court, fishing from another launch nearby, landed two sailfish, and Verne Marshall, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, in the same boat with Mr. Hoover, landed another. The party also harpooned a giant turtle.

TO TALK TARIFF
WITH SENATOR SMOOT.

Long Key, Fla., February 1.—(AP) Tariff revision and the general state of federal finances and expected to form the chief subjects of conferences which President-elect Hoover will hold over the week-end with Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, chairman of the senate finance committee.

Concluding his second fishing trip tomorrow night, Mr. Hoover will return to his Florida vacation home on Belle Isle, near Miami Beach, for the important series of discussions with the Utah senator, who is the first of the congressional leaders to be invited south by the next president.

The president-elect is especially anxious about legislative program on farm relief and tariff revision, the chief measures to be acted upon at the extra session of the new congress which is to be convened about April 15.

DRY FUND CHANGE STARTS IN HOUSE

With Harris Proposal
Facing Certain Defeat,
Byrnes Proposes Alteration in Georgian's Plan.

Washington, February 1.—(AP) A new move was initiated today by southern democrats in the house to obtain congressional approval of the proposed $24,000,000 increase for prohibition enforcement.

Undismayed by a defeat in the house to keep the appropriation embodied in the deficiency supply bill, from getting into the hands of a senate and house conference committee, the democrats, headed by Representative Byrnes, of Tennessee, today proposed a revision of the prohibition clause which they hope will bring about its approval.

The revision now proposed by the democrats is designed to meet the objections of Secretary Mellon, who has contended that as now worded the clause would prevent use of the proposed increase by all of the agencies charged with enforcement of the dry laws. Friends of the increase proposal believe the Byrnes amendment would accomplish this.

Meanwhile, the senate today was advised of the desire of the house for a conference on the bill, and the measure formally was turned over to a conference committee. This action preceded by a short time an announcement in the senate by Senator Harris, democrat, Georgia, that he would accept the proposed Byrnes revision.

Harris is the original sponsor of the big increase item.

Immediately after the Georgian's announcement, however, Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, protested that the bill had gone to conference, and under senate rules it was too late to consider any such plan.

While this was taking place, both houses found time to discuss some phase of the prohibition question. Senator Harris undertook an analysis of

New Name For Decatur Street Voted

Council Committee Favors
Change to East Marietta Street.

Members of the streets committee of city council Friday voted to change the name of Decatur street to East Marietta street, following insistence of Councilmen Harry York, of the sixth ward, and Joseph Berman, of the fourth.

Mr. York exhibited a petition signed by a large number of property owners seeking the change. The recommendation will go to council Monday.

The committee voted to ask Fulton county to assist the city in substituting hard surfaced paving where wood block paving is now located on downtown streets. Clarke Donaldson, chief of construction, asked the change.

Councilmen Berman and Raleigh Drennon, of the ninth ward, urged that $150,000 be included in the proposed bond issue for construction of an underpass under the Southern railway line at North avenue, and for grading, extension and paving of North avenue from Kruesaw avenue to Glen Iris drive and thence to the paving running in the rear of Sears, Roebuck and company.

They did not insist on street committee action after being told the recommendation is included in a schedule of improvements submitted by the construction department.

ENGINEER'S DEAD
HAND ON THROTTLE
FOR THREE MILES

Bryan, Ohio, February 1.—For three miles a dead hand guided a through freight train between Bryan and Noy. The fireman noticed that a crossing was passed without the sound of a whistle, but the engineer was in his position and the fireman kept shoveling coal. Another crossing went by without a warning and the fireman found that Harvey A. Freymuth, the engineer, was dead. A cap found along the tracks indicated where he had received an apoplectic stroke.

LOUISIANA WOMAN DIES ON GALLOWS

Mrs. Lebouef and Dr.
Dreher Pay for Murder of Woman's Husband; Deny Guilt.

Franklin, La., February 1.—(AP) This small Teche village shuddered and went on its way today after the double executions of the first white woman to be hanged by the courts of Louisiana, and a prominent practicing physician.

Mrs. Ada Bonner Lebouef, 38, and Dr. Thomas E. Dreher, 56, went to their deaths calmly and specifically, each requested the hangman, a small, middle-aged New Orleans man, with his lower face shielded by a red bandana handkerchief, not to let them struggle to death. He answered their wishes and broke each of their necks as the metal trap swung open with a rasping, metallic sound.

Both protested their innocence to the very end. Each talked from the steel gallows trap to the small group of men seven feet below. Each requested the hangman, a small, middle-aged New Orleans man, with his lower face shielded by a red bandana handkerchief, not to let them struggle to death. He answered their wishes and broke each of their necks as the metal trap swung open with a rasping, metallic sound.

They were unmoved by the woman's deathly cry as she was lowered to the ground. She was as quiet as a lamb, and she was as calm as a lamb.

SOLICITOR BOYKIN PLANS NEW TRIAL WITHIN 2 WEEKS

State Has Not Decided
Whether To Try Gallogly for Murder of Smith or of Meeks.

DEFENSE LAWYERS SILENT ON VERDICT

Jury Out for Almost 24 Hours Before Judge Decides That Agreement on Case Is Impossible.

The jury hopelessly deadlocked, six for conviction and a sentence of life imprisonment and six firm for acquittal, a mistrial was ordered in the case of Dick Gallogly at 6 o'clock Friday night by Fulton Superior Court Judge Virlyn B. Moore, before whom the youth had been on trial since Tuesday for alleged participation in the murder of Willard Smith, for which George Harsh is under sentence to die in the electric chair.

The state plans immediate retrial. Solicitor-General John A. Boykin announced, adding that it likely would be placed on the calendar for trial within two weeks, displacing others of less import, possibly including that of Clinton S. Carnes, ex-treasurer of the Southern Baptist home mission board, scheduled a stand trial before a jury in Judge G. H. Howard's court February 12.

Defense Counsel Silent.
Lawyer Arnold, associate chief of the defense counsel, announced that members of the Gallogly defense staff had no comment to make on the result of the trial.

Judge Moore's order for a mistrial came at exactly 6 o'clock Friday night, a few minutes less than 24 hours after the case had been given to the jury. In that time the jury had deliberated 12 hours, three Thursday night and the balance Friday.

As members of the prosecuting staff, defense counsel, members of the Gallogly and Smith families and a large crowd of spectators waited patiently for the verdict which never came, Judge Moore kept in constant touch with the jury all during the day, each hour bringing stronger in his mind and in the mind of counsel for both sides the fact that there was little likelihood of a verdict.

At 5:40 o'clock, Judge Moore called the jury in the courtroom and asked its foreman, O. W. Settle, a real estate man, to give him the numerical count, but not the division on the verdict.

Count Six to Six.
Mr. Settle repeated the count to be "six and six." Judge Moore then ordered the panel back to its room to remain until 6 o'clock. Meanwhile at a conference held by members of the prosecuting staff, defense counsel and Judge Moore in the judge's private conference it was reported that all

GOVERNOR OF N. C. TO FILL VACANCIES IN U. S. SENATE

Raleigh, N. C., February 1.—(AP)—The governor of North Carolina hereafter will fill by appointment vacancies in the ranks of the state's United States senators.

Under a bill passed by the house of representatives of the state legislature today the power to fill vacancies was vested in the governor. The act repealed a state law requiring such vacancies to be filled by a special election.

The measure, sponsored by Senator Wylie M. Person, of Franklin county, already had passed the house. It formally becomes law when it is engrossed and signed by the speaker of the house and the president of the senate.

The governor of North Carolina has no veto power.

to the south of this city seeking Edith May Dierdorf, 10-year-old girl who has been missing since last Sunday. She left her home in West Terre Haute Sunday to sell newspapers. Her newspaper sack with bloodstains on it was found Monday beneath a bridge 40 miles south of here, but no trace of the child has been found.

On Wednesday and Thursday an intensive search was made of the territory in which the news sack was located, but the efforts of 1,000 men, aided by observers in two airplanes, were unavailing.

The only clue, other than the finding of the news sack, is the story of a storekeeper that the child purchased a package of chewing gum on Sunday morning and then went away in an automobile which apparently was waiting for her.

HOUSE BODY APPLAUDS UNDERWOOD DEVOTION

Ways and Means Committee Adopts Resolution Over Ex-Senator's Death.

Washington, February 1.—(AP)—The house today adopted a resolution expressing regret over the recent death of former Senator Underwood, of Alabama. A copy of the resolution and an expression of "tenderest sympathy" also was sent to the senator's widow. The resolution recalled that Mr. Underwood had once served with distinction as chairman of the ways and means committee and added: "Death is no respecter of persons. On January 25, 1929, the Hon. Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, fell asleep. For over a third of a century, Mr. Underwood had devoted his life and great talents to public service. In the house of representatives, in the senate, in the Washington peace conference, and as a delegate to the Pan-American conference in Havana, he served his country with fidelity and great ability and reflected honor upon himself and the United States. "He was able, industrious, courteous and magnetic, and his honor and integrity were above suspicion; his character above reproach. He was truly one of the great Americans of his time. In his passing away the nation lost one of its purest and greatest statesmen."

COLLEGIANS OFFER FIRST OF DANCE SERIES TONIGHT

First of a series of Saturday night dances, given by the Collegians, a group of young men representatives of all local colleges, will take place at 9 o'clock tonight at the West End Woman's club, with the "Rhythm Kings" orchestra supplying the music. Organization recently of the Collegians was effected for the announced purpose of providing the Atlanta college set with a regular weekly dance. The group decided to take over the weekly dance of the West End Woman's club, 1100 Cascade road. The "Rhythm Kings" recently completed a long vaudeville engagement over the Saenger theaters' circuit, covering Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama. A number of invitations have been extended for the dance and a large attendance is expected.

MUSCLE SHOALS BILL IS TO BE RECONSIDERED

Laid on Table at Last Session, House Body Votes To Take It Up.

Washington, February 1.—(AP)—The house military affairs committee today voted, 13 to 7, to reconsider the Madden bill to lease Muscle Shoals to the American Cyanamid company primarily for the manufacture of fertilizer.

The Madden bill was laid on the table at the last session after a dispute had arisen between members of the committee and the cyanamid company over the methods of recapture by the government in event the company failed to live up to the proposed fertilizer manufacture agreement. The cyanamid company is understood by members of the committee to have a revised forfeiture clause ready to offer and W. B. Bell, president of the company, will appear before the committee tomorrow to discuss the provision. Fertilizer interests also will be heard.

The new forfeiture clause to be presented by the cyanamid company is understood to have provided that, if after 15 years of experimentation, it is manifest that fertilizer cannot be successfully produced at the shoals, one of the following three propositions could be invoked: Raise the rental price of the power to be produced, let the government recapture the fertilizer plant only, with power to operate, or allow the government to take back all the property of the lessee and reimburse the company for all expenses.

FIRE CAPTAIN DIES AS HIS TRUCK HITS LIGHT MOTOR CAR

Knoxville, Tenn., February 1.—(AP)—Captain Jack Sexton, of No. 6 company of the Knoxville fire department, was killed almost instantly here this afternoon in a collision between the truck he was driving and a light car driven by Assistant Chief J. H. Sudarth. Four members of the company and the assistant chief's aide were also injured seriously. The company was answering a call in the northern part of the city. It was traveling west on Jefferson avenue and crashed into the assistant's car which was traveling north in response to the same call, at the intersection with Winona street.

PAN-AMERICAN AIR PASSENGER SERVICE IS INAUGURATED

San Juan, Porto Rico, February 1.—(AP)—The Pan-American airways today began an air passenger service connecting Porto Rico, Santo Domingo, Haiti, Cuba and the United States. The service is in addition to the air mail touching these countries which was opened early in January.

PRINCE IS PLANNING RELIEF FOR NEEDY

Will Hold Conference With Prime Minister on Unemployment.

London, February 1.—(AP)—The first step of the Prince of Wales in an attempt to alleviate depressing conditions in the northern mining districts which he has just visited is expected to be a conference looking to a remedy with the prime minister, Stanley Baldwin.

This interview will take place, it is believed, as soon as the prince returns to London, although it is not known whether he will defer his return until after his tour of inspection of the South Wales district. Conditions are said to be as bad, or worse there as in the northern districts. Whatever route actually is chosen it is deemed certain the British heir will make good his undertaking to attempt betterment of conditions in the mining areas, conditions which he has termed "damnable." It is assumed after consulting the premier he probably will issue a public appeal to increase the "pound for pound" donations, emphasizing in such an appeal the impression he has received in his tour.

Reports to London from the area over which the prince has traveled all agree that he has left behind him a feeling of hearty appreciation for his efforts among the miners of the north, and it is said that nowhere in the country is he more popular than there. The prince intends to pass the week-end hunting at Melton Mowbray.

H. J. ALLEN RESIGNS AS THE PUBLISHER OF OMAHA PAPER

Omaha, Neb., February 1.—(AP)—Henry J. Allen announced today his resignation as publisher of the Omaha Bee News. He was succeeded by Peter Hamilton, associate publisher. The press of other business was given as his reason for resigning.

The OBOY GANG—THE OVERLAND STAGE IS ATTACKED BY REDSKINS!

OBOY BREAD

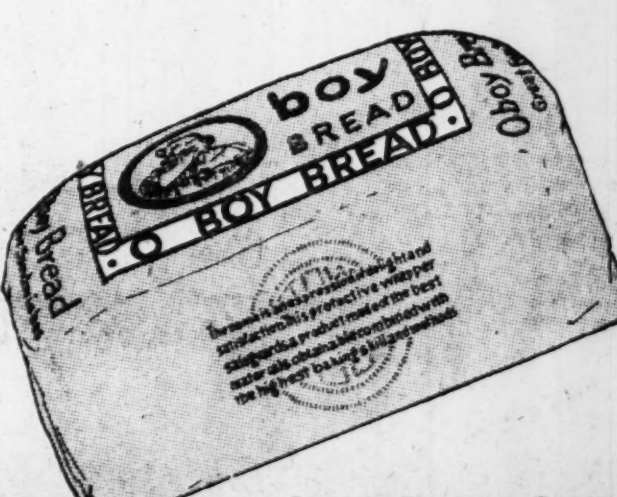

THE BREAD THAT'S DEDICATED TO ALL CHILDREN BECAUSE IT'S SO GOOD FOR THEM

PERCY is putting up such a vigorous defense that the gang wants his scalp. But it was really the Oboy bread that started them on this wild chase!

Healthy, active youngsters just can't resist the gleam of golden crust through the Oboy wrapper. The last few months have taught them that it's a promise of goodness within—a promise always fulfilled. For Oboy bread is genuinely good—clear through—all the time. Its snowy center is of a firm, even texture, its crust is flaky fresh—always.

Because children enjoy eating Oboy bread, it's doubly good for them—and for you. The food you like is best for you, you know. And you can serve it in such a variety of ways that you need never tire of it. There are so many sorts of toast, of sandwiches, of puddings and special recipes. Ask your grocer for this new, luscious loaf.

WOMEN MAKE APPEAL FOR MORE RIGHTS

Senate Body Hears Arguments on Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

Washington, February 1.—(AP)—Advocates and opponents of a proposed amendment to the constitution which would give women equal rights with men gave their views today to a senate judiciary subcommittee.

Support of the proposed legislation was voiced by representatives of the national woman's party and opposition came from the League of Women Voters and thirteen other women's organizations.

The amendment would provide that "men and women shall have equal rights" and that "congress shall have power to enforce" its provisions.

Among the proponents was Miss Emma Vold, of Portland, Ore., who pointed to the laws of her state as proof of her assertion that measures "can be enacted for men and women workers" that are constitutional. Mrs. Mary Murray, of Brooklyn, a ticket seller on the Brooklyn Manhattan Transit railway, declared that "constantly increasing numbers of working women are demanding that if there are to be laws regulating industry they shall be based on the conditions of industry, not on sex, and that they shall apply to all workers, men and women alike."

Mrs. Maud Wood Park, former president of the National League of Women Voters, characterized the proposed legislation as "unnecessary, ineffective, reckless of consequences and backward-looking."

Traffic Through Panama Canal Greatly Increased

Panama City, Panama, February 1.—(AP)—There were 608 merchant ships transited through the Panama canal in January, records today showed, in addition, 117 units of the United States fleet made their way from one terminus to another.

January tolls, while not known exactly, are expected to exceed $2,500,000 against $2,295,459 in December.

BIGGER COAST GUARD ASKED FOR RUM WAR

200 More Officers, Better Vessels Needed, Billard Tells Mellon.

Washington, February 1.—(AP)—Recommendations for a five-year program to permit the coast guard to increase its activities against liquor smugglers and its other services were placed before Secretary Mellon today by Admiral F. C. Billard, commandant of the guard.

Admiral Billard advocated increase of the commissioned personnel by 200 officers, replacement of obsolete and worn-out vessels and transfer of approximately 26 destroyers now used by the navy to the coast guard patrol. This, he said, would permit the retirement of old coast guard destroyers which are costly to operate.

The admiral took the view that an increase in the enlisted personnel was not needed at this time. Addition of commissioned officers, it was said, would permit many veterans now serving in junior ranks to be advanced thus attracting men to the service and giving them more of the standing enjoyed by army and navy officers.

Another recommendation was that funds be made available to construct new cutters and tubs to replace similar vessels now obsolete.

He said also that the forces maintained at the principal seaports to inspect baggage were insufficient.

The recommendations will be studied by Under Secretary Mills and then submitted to the budget bureau. A second report is expected in a few days from Commissioner Camp, of the customs service. Secretary Mellon recently instructed the heads of the prohibition, custom and coast guard service for a written survey of conditions in each branch as it pertained to the enforcement of the Volstead act.

Mrs. Willebrandt Hit For Placing Under-Cover Men in Prisons

Washington, February 1.—(United News).—Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant United States attorney general, was attacked by Representative Boylan, New York democrat, for placing undercover agents in federal prisons and for her campaign speeches, in an address printed in the Congressional Record today.

Declaring spying was un-American, Boylan said if such a system is continued "America will become a nation of spies, snoopers and Benedict Arnolds."

He characterized Mrs. Willebrandt's campaign speeches as "intemperate and un-Christian" and said fanaticism dictates her attempt to use the conspiracy clauses of federal laws in prosecution of prohibition violators in New York city.

BRITAIN'S GIANT AIRSHIP TO HAVE TRIALS IN SPRING

London, February 1.—(AP)—The new giant British airship R-100 will be ready for her shed trials early in the spring, and probably will make her first flight a few weeks later, it has been announced.

The R-100 is one of two great dirigibles under construction in England designed to inaugurate an inter-empire air service. It is planned to fly the ship to Canada in the spring and a mooring mast is now being erected at Montreal in anticipation of the visit.

MEXICO IS PLANNING DRIVE ON INSURGENTS

Want To "Clean Up" Jalisco and Michoacan by First of May.

Mexico City, February 1.—(AP)—The Mexican government has ordered an immediate intense offensive against insurgents in the states of Jalisco and Michoacan in an endeavor to pacify those regions completely by May. Squadrons of airplanes are being sent from Mexico City to cooperate with the troops.

Meanwhile dispatches from the state of Guadaluajara to the newspaper La Prensa state that federal troops are besieging a force of 200 insurgents in a mountain stronghold there. The insurgents had attacked the town of Zapotlan, but were repulsed.

Although various attempts have been made to capture the insurgent position, the federal troops were unable to penetrate it, and are awaiting the arrival of machine guns to launch a major attack.

Dispatches to Excelsior from Guadaluajara said that Celestino Ramos, an alleged insurgent leader, was captured and executed near the town of Cuicuilco.

Followers of Amadeo Vidales, an insurgent chieftain who recently surrendered in the state of Guerrero, are coming in groups. It is expected that almost a thousand men will have surrendered when the bands, which have been operating in the more remote regions, reach the federal military headquarters and hand over their arms.

BIG COURT FIGHT OVER M'CORMICK ESTATE IS ENDED

Chicago, February 1.—(AP)—The lengthy court fight over control of the $25,000,000 estate of Stanley McCormick ended today when both Harold McCormick, Stanley's brother, and Mrs. Katherine Dexter McCormick, Stanley's wife, were appointed joint conservators of the estate.

The brother and the wife had opposed each other in the litigation to determine a conservator and the action of Judge Henry Horner in naming both as a joint conservator was regarded as a compromise.

Stanley McCormick has been declared incompetent to manage his affairs. He has resided in California for the last 20 years, but his extensive holdings are in Chicago and his legal residence is here, giving the Chicago courts jurisdiction over the estate. The court ruled, however, that it had no jurisdiction in the matter of appointing personal conservators, who will remain as appointed by California courts.

The Continental Illinois Bank and Trust company will serve with the brother and wife as conservators of the estate.

Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, was counsel for Mrs. McCormick.

PROSECUTION ENDS IN BRIBERY TRIAL OF KEYES, 2 OTHERS

Los Angeles, February 1.—(AP)—The state rested today in the bribery trial of former District Attorney Asa Keyes and two co-defendants after calling one witness in rebuttal.

Milton Tipton, a former employee in the tailor shop of Ben Getzoff, scene of the alleged "fixing" of fraud charges against the promoters of the defunct Jupiter Petroleum corporation, was the prosecution witness.

He denied that he had attempted to "blackmail" Getzoff, who is a co-defendant with Keyes. Defense witnesses previously had related alleged conversations in which they said Pike threatened his employer. Evidence presented to the grand jury by Pike resulted in the indictment of Keyes and Getzoff.

BOOTH TARKINGTON LEAVES HOSPITAL FOR INDIANAPOLIS

Baltimore, February 1.—(AP)—Booth Tarkington, novelist, left Johns Hopkins hospital today for his home in Indianapolis. Physicians said he had recuperated sufficiently from a recent eye operation, but he was expected to return to the Wilmer Eye Institute at Johns Hopkins later for further observation of his ailment.

FORT VALLEY BOY AMONG 5 CHOSEN AS FLYING CADETS

Fort Valley, Ga., February 1.—(Special).—V. Lynn Brown, Jr., of Fort Valley, is one of five Georgia boys who have been selected among the 195 applicants who will start training March 1 as flying cadets at the United States army flying schools at Brooks field, San Antonio, Texas, and March field, Riverside, Calif.

Lynn Brown is a son of Dr. and Mrs. Virginia Brown, and is a student of the University of Georgia.

Alderman Candidate Is Under Charge Of Stealing Bread

Chicago, February 1.—(AP)—One of Chicago's candidates for alderman at the spring election has been arrested, charged with stealing bread.

Leroy Koski, who seeks to represent the thirteenth ward in the city council, was locked up after C. Reed, a bakery wagon driver, reported seeing him and two other men remove bread from in front of a store where the driver had left it.

Police said Koski's aldermanic ambition is sponsored by John (Dingbat) Oberta.

Woman Shoots Mate While He Waits Trial On Statutory Charge

Washington, February 1.—(United News).—While awaiting trial on a statutory charge in police court here today, Charles A. Brown was called into a corridor by his wife, Mrs. May Brown, who fired three shots into his body. Attendants at the hospital where Brown was taken, said his condition was serious. The detective who took Mrs. Brown to the house of detention said she expressed sorrow because she was unable to "get the other woman" who was a party to the statutory charge. Brown was arrested more than a year ago at the behest of his wife. She told police today, but his trial had been postponed from time to time.

TRAWLER SEINER IS THOUGHT LOST AFTER LONG SEARCH

New London, Conn., February 1.—(AP)—Hope that the missing trawler Seiner and her crew of 20 are still safe was practically abandoned today with the announcement by President

John Graham, of the Portland Trawling company, that a damaged lifeboat from the missing craft was found about 128 miles east of Nantucket late yesterday. Simultaneously coast guard officials here announced that the extensive coast guard search which has been carried on for the Seiner during the past week had been abandoned.

SOLONS AIR TARIFF VIEWS IN HOUSE TALK

Every Section Wants Protection for Its Particular Commodities.

Washington, February 1.—(P)—The tariff made its way from a committee room to the house floor today for the first time this session and found republicans and democrats alike willing to air their views.

Coincident with the closing of hearings on cotton rates by the ways and means committee, which will write a revised schedule of tariff duties for presentation to a special session of congress in the spring, Representative Clarke, a New York republican, opened the discussion on the floor with a plea for protection for boots and shoes, now duty free.

Duty on Boots and Shoes. Clarke said imports of boots and shoes had jumped from 398,929 pairs valued at $1,246,176 in 1923, a year after the present tariff law became operative, to 1,477,435 pairs worth more than $3,000,000 in 1927 and that foreign manufacturers were threatening the domestic business with their American-made machinery and cheap labor.

The New Yorker referred to "my friend John Garner, of that good republican state of Texas," as expressing the conviction that the democratic tariff theory was to give everybody equal treatment and added the shoe manufacturers were not opposed to a duty on hides, also on the free list, as a counter to the tariff on the ways and means committee. Representative Black, democrat, Texas, read a resolution adopted by the Texas legislature favoring protection for products of the ranch, farm and orchard equal to that accorded products of the mine and factory and praised the tariff plank adopted by the democratic national convention at Houston.

This prompted Representative Crowther, of New York, a republican member of the ways and means committee, to remark that while there apparently had been a change in the democratic tariff attitude, he was afraid there would be some "conscientious objectors" when the time came to vote on the new law.

Crowther said he wanted the tariff wall so high that importers would be "likely to break their necks trying to get in."

"When you democrats wrote the tariff," he said, addressing Black, "you never gave the farmer anything, you skinned him alive and nailed his hide on the barn door as exhibit A."

To Black, Florida, put in a plea for a duty on palm fibre, the New York member said he would do anything for Florida in view of the latest election returns.

"I would recommend that Florida cede to the United States the St. Lucie canal, the eastern drain of Lake Okechobee," he said, "and also the enlargement of the Caloosahatchee river and canal. This would make a six-foot cross state waterway that I believe will be invaluable to the future of national navigation."

The traffic on such a waterway, he said, would be light draft barge navigation, which engineers report recommended an increase of $2,500,000 over the estimates of Florida drainage engineers. The levee on the south side of the lake would be 63 miles long instead of 48 miles and the one on the north 20 miles long instead of three miles as the local estimates recommended.

The cost of the levees on the lake would be $6,300,000, according to Jadwin's recommendation in place of the $3,800,000 estimated by local engineers.

"We believe that the protection in this area should be the strongest possible," he said.

Jadwin further stated that he believed the state of Florida should bear the expense of maintaining the improved and dredged St. Lucie canal, which he estimated would be about $100,000 a year.

"Ordinarily we would not advise government participation in such a project of future navigation," he said, "but in this case we must consider the value and importance of the navigation here in the future, and also the necessity of saving lives and helping in putting Florida back on her feet."

The work, he said, he felt should be done by State engineers, not by local agencies.

Representative Druce, Florida, author of the bill under consideration, told the committee that his state was not interested in navigation and transportation, but only in flood control in order to avert any further loss of life by the overflowing of the lake.

He declared that the state would be unable to meet the $6,740,000 cost that would be imposed under the army engineers' plan.

KRAKATOA POURS OUT LAVA AGAIN AFTER 46 YEARS

Amsterdam, February 1.—(United Press.)—Krakatoa, which killed more than 25,000 persons in an eruption in 1883, is in violent action again, according to advices received tonight from Batavia, in the Dutch East Indies.

The volcanic island at present is averaging more than 1,000 small eruptions a day, the advices said, hurling ashes and pumice nearly a mile into the air.

Krakatoa is a small volcanic island in the Sunda straits, between Java and Sumatra.

In August, 1883, the most terrific of all Krakatoa eruptions was recorded. It was estimated it took less than 30,000 persons in two days. The sound was heard as far as Rodriguez, 3,000 miles away. A great column of stones and dust was thrown miles into the air and the sky at Bandung, 150 miles away, was darkened with fine ash.

Tidal waves reached a height of 50 feet, destroying whole villages on the island. The ash was carried by the winds for thousands of square miles.

DANISH ROYALTY OFF ON JOURNEY TO SPANISH KING

Copenhagen, Denmark, February 1.—(P)—King Christian and Queen Alexandra left here today for Paris en route to Madrid, where they will remain a short time as guests of King Alfonso. They expect to arrive in Madrid about February 6, departing soon thereafter for the Riviera.

STRUCK BY AUTO, DIES INSTANTLY

Beaufort, S. C., February 1.—(P)—George A. Addison was killed last night when struck by an auto driven by Irvin Lipsitz. A coroner's jury declared the accident unavoidable.

Mr. Addison was walking along the street at night with a sack of oranges on his back. Apparently he walked directly in front of the approaching car.

MERCER SENIOR COPY OF CLUSTER APPEARS

Macon, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—The senior class edition of the Mercer Cluster, a student newspaper of the University here, appeared on the campus this morning. Clusters issued by the under classes will appear on following Fridays in competition with the senior publication for a silver cup to be awarded the class publishing the best paper.

A news story with the information that the 1923 Caudron, Mercer year book, will be dedicated to Dr. Spright, Dowell, president of the university, was featured on the front page of the newspaper. An entire inside page was devoted to tributes by the faculty and students to the memory of Dr. A. P. Montague, late vice president of the institution.

Editorials advocated temperance rather than prohibition, praised the Caudron editors' selection of Dr. Dowell for the dedication and discussed the policy of the new administration at Mercer in handling the affairs of the college. A satire on freshman themes, written by Howard Leonard, Macon, occupied a signed editorial column.

Charlie Wallace, of Waynesboro, edited the senior Cluster. His assistants were Joe Moore, of Franklin, N. C.; Rufus Boone, Newman; Howard Leonard, Macon; Sam Cheek, Gainesville; Joe Bobbitt, Brookhaven, Miss.; John Gilbert, Brunswick; Miss Rebecca Abel, Macon, and J. A. Curry, Dublin.

PRINCESS ILLA Declines To Wed As Groom Waits

Army Engineer Asks House Body for $10,740,000 Appropriation.

Washington, February 1.—(P)—A $10,740,000 expenditure for flood control and navigation development of Lake Okechobee, Fla., and its drainage area, was recommended today by General Jadwin, chief of army engineers to the House flood control committee.

Of the amount recommended by the engineers report on the project, General Jadwin suggested that $6,740,000 be paid by the state of Florida or other local sources and $4,000,000 by the federal government. The primary reason for the government's participation in the project, he said, is flood control and consequent protection of life and property. The secondary reason and the one that prompted his recommendation, explained General Jadwin, is the development of the lake and drainage streams for future navigation.

"I would recommend that Florida cede to the United States the St. Lucie canal, the eastern drain of Lake Okechobee," he said, "and also the enlargement of the Caloosahatchee river and canal. This would make a six-foot cross state waterway that I believe will be invaluable to the future of national navigation."

HEARING TO FORECLOSE S. A. RAIL BONDS OPENS

Augusta, Ga., February 1.—(P)—Hearing on a motion to foreclose bonds on the Savannah and Atlanta railroad, running from Camden to Savannah, was adjourned until Saturday morning by Judge William H. Barrett, in federal court chambers here today, to allow two groups of bondholders to attempt an amicable adjustment of a conflict which had arisen between them.

One group, known as the Brinson bondholders, of which R. H. Bradley, president of the Prudential Life Insurance company, New York, is representative, and another group, known as the Savannah and Atlantic bondholders, represented by Charles P. Spooner and Riddell, of New York, are at odds over the disposal of the railroad.

The Brinson group, holding a lien over 108 miles of the road from St. Clair to Savannah, holds $865,000 in bonds, while the other group holds bonds of $2,500,000 on the 34 miles from Camden to St. Clair.

The road, besides operating 142 miles of track from Camden to Savannah, owns a lease on port properties and terminal sites in Savannah where it is hoped to establish industrial sites.

PUGILIST-CLERIC HELD AFTER ALIENISTS' VISIT

Oakland, Calif., February 1.—(P)—Rev. Frederick R. (Kid) Wedge, Presbyterian minister and former pugilist, was held here today for observation by alienists following his admission that he had been obsessed by desire to strangle his bride a week or to throw her out of a window of the hotel where they have been honeymooning.

Wedge attributed his obsession to a skull fracture suffered years ago in the ring, and said the trouble had been aggravated by publicity which followed his marriage to a woman divorced on grounds not recognized by his church.

On his wedding day Wedge made an announcement that he was unable to go ahead with the marriage because the bride-to-be, Mrs. Jennie M. Holloway, had been divorced for incompatibility. He changed his mind later, however, declaring he had decided to leave the Presbyterian church, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. C. D. Norris, pastor of the Berkeley Church of the Nazarene.

The Rev. Mr. Norris later said his superior had threatened to unhook him for marrying a person divorced on grounds outside those recognized by the church.

Wedge was taken into custody after he went to an alienist for consultation. He was lodged in the psychiatric ward of the city hospital.

The boxing preacher made his way into the boxing ring after developing pugilistic talent while working in the lumber camps of the northwest. He quit the ring for the ministry and last November led an unsuccessful fight to repeal the California boxing law.

BLACKMER SERVED WITH COURT RULE BY U. S. OFFICER

Washington, February 1.—(P)—United States Marshal Blackmer was informed here today that Harry M. Blackmer, former head of the Midwest Refining company, had been served with a contempt rule in Paris on January 21 in connection with his failure to appear as a witness in the conspiracy trial of Harry F. Sinclair last winter.

Snyder said he received the word from George Orr, American consul at Paris, who had personally served the rule on the oil man. Blackmer was reported by Orr to be accompanied by his lawyer at the time.

The rule was issued recently by Justice Hitz of the District of Columbia supreme court, and requires an answer by February 25.

Science Delegates Hear Developments Of Bridge Building

Athens, Ga., February 1.—(P)—Developments in practical bridge engineering formed the principal theme for the Georgia Academy of Science here tonight, with S. B. Shack, bridge engineer for the state highway department, delivering the main address.

Dr. H. P. Stephens, of the mathematics department of the University of Georgia, read a paper today as the principal business aside from the meeting, the executive council of the academy was entertained at dinner in Memorial hall.

Addresses before the body were highly technical.

Twenty-four members of the academy are on tomorrow's program for short papers on subjects ranging from the purely material to the sociological sciences. They are: David F. Barrow, R. R. Childs, Paul Tabor, H. M. McKay, T. H. McIlhatton, Miss Catherine Newton, G. H. Boyd, R. C. Rhodes, Miss M. S. MacDougall, H. P. Stuckey, E. S. Heath, C. J. Brockman, J. F. Messick, R. P. Stephens, J. L. McGeebe, G. L. Kelly, William Salant, L. L. Hendon, A. S. Edwards, A. V. Henry, R. D. Kneale, W. A. Shelton, L. P. Smith and R. N. Snyder.

At luncheon tomorrow the academy will be addressed by President Andrew M. Soule, of the Georgia State College of Agriculture, on "The Research Program of the Georgia State College of Agriculture."

PRINCESS ILLA

Princess Illa, who is just past twenty, sprang the new surprise today by confessing that her heart belonged to Prince Philippe Ernest, who will be married later. The families of the princesses all declare that they credit her with the sincerest motives springing from a deep religious conviction that it would be wrong for her to marry Prince Raphael when she really loved Prince Philippe.

It was learned today that Princess Illa met Philippe about the same time that she met Raphael, who is 23. She was not sure of her feelings, however, until she saw him daily while staying at his paternal home for the week preceding the date set for her marriage to Raphael.

Numerous guests had gathered at Regensburg to witness the ceremony, and the bishop of Regensburg was ready to read the service when Princess Illa went to Prince Albert, the eighth reigning prince and her intended father-in-law, and told him she loved another. She said she found it incompatible with the dictates of her conscience to promise to "love, honor and obey" Prince Raphael, until death might them part.

Prince Albert called the elders of the house, including Prince Erich, Princess Illa's father, into a conference, the upshot of which was cancellation of the engagement.

KELLOGG'S NAME DULY PRESENTED FOR NOBLE PRIZE

Washington, February 1.—(P)—A group of leaders in congress, including Vice President Dawes, have suggested that Secretary Kellogg should be awarded the Nobel prize for the outstanding contribution to world peace last year.

A cablegram has been sent to the Nobel prize committee at Oslo, Norway, recommending Mr. Kellogg because of his work in negotiating the treaty to renounce war, which has been popularly associated with his name.

Those who signed the cablegram in addition to Mr. Dawes were Vice President-elect Curtis, Nicholas Longworth, speaker of the house, Senator Burton and Fess, of Ohio, Shipstead and Scheck, of Minnesota, Walsh, of Montana, and Representative Newton, of Minnesota.

QUESTION MARK RECORD IS GIVEN OFFICIAL NOTICE

Washington, February 1.—(P)—The National Aeronautic association today officially recognized the flight of the Question Mark as the record endurance flight in America. The barograph, calibrated by the bureau of standards, showed 150 hours 40 minutes and 14 seconds in the air.

The barograph, with the necessary documents, was sent today to Orville Wright, chairman of the contest committee of the association. He will forward the material to the Federation Aeronautique Internationale in Paris for recognition of the flight as an official world record.

TURKISH WOMEN OUTCLASSING MEN AT NEW ALPHABET

Constantinople, February 1.—(P)—Turkish women are outclassing men in the race to learn the new latinized A B C's which President Kemal has ordered all his citizens between the ages of 10 and 40 to acquaint themselves with before June. In the 2,197 A B C school which the government has opened in this city alone since January 1, the number of women students has risen to 48,453 against 30,442 men pupils.

Young women nursing their babies and grey haired grandmothers fill the school room benches and in some quarters of the city where the classes for women are crowded to capacity, bold

Turkish flappers wedge their way into the classes reserved for men. Turkish men, irritated by the fact that the women are apparently so much more zealous in the quest of literacy, argue that the reason for the superior number of women students is that many of them who are over forty and therefore exempt from the classes, prefer to attend rather than to admit their age.

Power of Wealth Waning, Says Coolidge, Dedicated Bok Gift to Mountain Lake

Americans Enjoying Era Which Brings to Masses Advantages Once Reserved to a Few.

Mountain Lake, Fla., February 1. (AP)—President Coolidge dedicated his special train to 9:15 tonight and began the return journey to Washington after a stay of a little more than six hours here in the course of which he dedicated the bird sanctuary and singing tower established by Edward W. Bok.

Mountain Lake, Fla., February 1. (AP)—In a setting of sylvan beauty President Coolidge today delivered what may be his last address as chief

WAS UNABLE TO WORK HALF THE TIME, HE STATES

Atlanta Man Was in Dreadful State of Health Five Years; Sargon Put Him on His Feet.

"Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills are the finest medicines that have ever come into my house, and I think I am a pretty good judge, for I have tried lots of them, and Sargon is the only one that has helped me. I am only too glad to tell others about it," said Mr. W. J. Simmermon, of 1109 Grove St., Atlanta, Ga., a few days ago.

"For the past five years I have been on a diet because nearly everything I ate would disagree with me. I suffered from nervous indigestion, gas and bloating, and was in such a run-down condition physically that I could only work about half the time. My blood pressure was low, and there were times that I would 'fall out' while at work, and when I would revive I would be so nervous that I could not hold my hand still. I would be like someone with the palsy, and there would be a numbness in my legs caused by the poor circulation of my blood.

"Since I began taking Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills, about thirty days ago, I have gained ten pounds, feel better than I have in a long time, and can do a full day's work now without feeling fatigued. The thing that pleases me most is that I can eat anything I want and it agrees with me. The increase in my weight is proof of that, and I also feel much stronger than I did. Another thing that makes me happy is that I have not had one of the attacks that caused me to fall out since starting the Sargon treatment, and the numbness in my legs has disappeared.

"After the first few doses of Sargon I could feel myself improving. The gas on my stomach and the bloating were the first symptoms to leave me, and the nervousness went along with that. I have improved each day since I began taking Sargon and I am in better health than I have been for years. I am now on my fourth bottle.

"I have taken two bottles of Sargon Soft Mass Pills and they are the best treatment I have ever tried for constipation. They act gently and thoroughly without any nausea or griping.

"Sargon has brought me health, strength and happiness, and I am glad of the opportunity to give my testimonial which I sincerely hope will be of benefit to others."

The Sargon representative is at Jacobs' main store, 6 and S. Marietta St., where he is meeting the public and explaining the merits of the medicine. Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills may also be obtained at the other Jacobs' stores all over Atlanta.—(Adv.)

executive of the nation, dedicating to the people of America the sanctuary and singing tower established here by Edward W. Bok.

A crowd variously estimated in the tens of thousands listened as the president spoke, although only a small part of the throng was visible to the president. His audience was seated among the palm trees and shrubbery with which the sanctuary abounds, while amplifiers carried the president's message to them.

Introduced by Mr. Bok, Coolidge was introduced by Mr. Bok, once an immigrant from Holland and later a prominent editor and philanthropist whose generosity made the sanctuary and the singing tower, with its carillon of 61 bells, possible. Governor Doyle E. Carlton of Florida also welcomed the president, welcoming Mr. Coolidge to Florida and inviting him to make his home in this state after his last approaching retirement from office.

Mr. Coolidge's address was devoted largely to an exposition of the view that the people of America are achieving a constantly growing appreciation of the beautiful and are enjoying a new era in the national life which brings to the masses of the people the advantages once reserved to a fortunate few.

Mr. Coolidge cited three underlying circumstances which he believed had brought this about—free education, public places and amusements which he termed the proportionately greater incomes of America's army of wage-earners; and the devotion of vast private fortunes to philanthropic purposes.

Lauds Bok's Generosity. "This sanctuary and tower," he said, "are not only endowed with beauty of their own, but they are a representation of the beneficent spirit of the giver. They are another illustration that the men of wealth of the United States are not bent on the accumulation of money merely for their own sake, or that they may use it in selfish and ostentatious display. A most cursory examination of the facts would soon disclose that our country leads the world in its charity and its benefactions. It would be difficult to recall any line of endeavor capable of ministering to human welfare, not only in our own country, but in many places abroad, which is not being helped by the generosity of our people of wealth. Not only that, but charities of this nation stand on a plane which is occupied by them alone.

The president saw in the sanctuary an inspiration for more beautiful homes and cleaner and better kept cities and towns which he said those who visit the place cannot escape taking away with them. "They will be filled with a noble discontent," he declared, "which cannot be satisfied in some degree against all forms of physical and spiritual ugliness."

At another point the president declared that it was impossible to view the movement toward increased advantages for the many "without smiling a little at those who but a short time ago expressed so much fear lest our country might come under the control of a few individuals of great wealth." They claimed, he said, that "the rich were growing richer and the poor were growing poorer," while "our experience has demonstrated that the reverse of this," would be closer to the truth.

Power of Wealth Wanes. "So many of our people have large amounts of property that it has taken on the aspect of being common," he continued. "The distinction that is once carried is gone. It is also doubtful if there ever was a time when even great wealth gave its possessor so little power as at present. Their money is of very little value in determining political action. Capital is so easily secured for any promising enterprise that it is no longer necessary to be rich to go into business. The possession of money has never been sufficient to gain the social attentions of persons of culture and refinement."

The president's special train arrived at Mountain Lake shortly after 3 o'clock and drove to a stop at a point near the sanctuary, where Mr. and Mrs. Bok and a reception committee were waiting. After a half-hour spent in the president's private car, the party proceeded to the sanctuary by automobile, alighting a quarter of a mile away to walk the remaining distance through the trees and shrubbery. As the president approached the carillon was heard playing America, and as those seated near the speaking stand caught sight of the president an ovation that in which quickly spread to the outskirts of the crowd, lost to sight among the trees.

The ceremonies began immediately. Mr. Bok introduced the president and Governor Carlton, there was music by a vested choir and then a concert on the tower chimes. Afterward, Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge inspected the tower and then repaired to the Bok home near by for tea, a period of rest and dinner, before entraining for the return trip to Washington.

Scotland Yard Officers Yarding For Mail Robbers

London, February 1.—(AP)—Scotland Yard was called upon today to solve one of the biggest London mail robberies in years. It is estimated that valuables totaling $50,000 were stolen from the sorting office of the Mount Pleasant postoffice in Clerkenwell.

The loss was discovered when a registered mail bag disappeared.

COLER, QUITTING POST, HITS TAMMANY HEADS

New York, February 1.—(AP)—Bird S. Coler was out of office as commissioner of public welfare today following Tammany leaders' denouncing his charges against the organization.

George W. Olvany, Tammany leader, denied he had tried to foist incompetent deputies upon Coler as charged by the latter on the eve of his retirement.

Coler, after 20 years' service in various public offices as an organization democrat, retired on a pension of $2,680 a year.

The retiring welfare commissioner opened his attack on Tammany in a speech in which he charged that organization leaders had attempted to use his department for patronage purposes and had sent unfit candidates to him for deputy appointments.

Later, in amplifying his remarks, he compared the days of Charles F. Murphy as Tammany leader and the administration of Mayor Hylan with the present regime. In former times, he said, there was no interference with the administration of his department and that the practice of rewarding the faithful by sending them to him "with a slip from central office," was developed within the last two years.

"Judge Olvany may not know it," said Coler, "but the secretary, James F. Egan, is doing it."

He said he was not supposed to appoint a washerwoman or anybody with a salary of more than $850 without the official O. K. of the organization.

Mayor Walker, in denying that he had ever sought patronage from Coler, said:

"I never recommended an appointment to him since I took office."

Social Service Workers of Dixie Laud Chest Plan

Testimony that the community chest idea of a central organization and a single campaign in collection, and administration of social welfare funds has succeeded in winning public attention, particularly that of business and industry, was given Friday afternoon and night at sessions of the southern regional conference of social service workers, held at the Hotel Ansley under auspices of the Association of Community Chests and Councils, of New York.

"Business has come to understand that our method is an intelligent and comprehensive bill of philanthropy," said Frank Miller, executive director of the Atlanta Community Chest, in the course of a round table discussion of the problem of corporate participation in a community's charity program. This was the principal theme of the two-day conference.

Business recognizes the need of the program of constructive helpfulness that community chest organizations have developed, Pierce Williams, an executive of the national association said, and chests should seek to help business concerns work out their community charity problems.

The conference will be continued through luncheon today, two addresses being made by E. G. Woodvine, of Chattanooga, on budget making, and on "The Rising Tide of Relief," by A. A. Gould, of Richmond, Va.

SALVATION ARMY COUNCIL TO HEAR BOOTH'S ANSWER

London, February 1.—(AP)—Both General Bramwell Booth and the high council of the Salvation Army today took definite moves in their controversy over the leadership of the Army.

The high council held a brief meeting this morning at which it decided that it would hear a representative of the general on the question of his adjudication by that body as being unfit to continue in his high office. This action was taken to conform with the recent decision of the high court that a mistake had been made by the council in adjudicating him without hearing his chosen representatives.

The general will be officially informed in due course of the council's decision to give him, or his delegate, a hearing. After this decision had been reached the council adjourned to meet again at a date which will be selected shortly. At this next meeting it is probable that the adjudicating proceedings will be taken up again, this time with the general's representative present.

Victor in the first court skirmish, the general already has made his first act of authority since Justice Eves' decision in chancery court reinstated him for the present as the Army's leader. By instruction of the general, a special supplement was issued with the War Cry today containing a reprint of the London Times' report on the court proceedings and a letter written and dated at Southwold on January 14 in which a conciliatory move on the part of the general is revealed.

TWO MEN HANGED IN ST. LOUIS JAIL FOR THEIR CRIMES

St. Louis, February 1.—(AP)—Leonard R. Yeager, 31, and Thomas Lowry, 23, convicted of murder, were hanged simultaneously in the city jail here early today, Yeager for the slaying of a bystander in a holdup November 17, 1928, and Lowry for the killing of a motorcycle officer September 25, 1928. The traps were sprung at 6:19 o'clock.

Both men went to the gallows with outward calm and the double execution was carried out speedily, with a small group of official witnesses and newspapermen in the death chamber.

in the automobile and escaped unscathed from the accident.

Lester Nash Killed.

Lester Nash, 20, was almost instantly killed about 9 o'clock at night when the stalled automobile in which he was sitting on the North avenue crossing of the N. C. & St. L. railroad tracks was struck by a passenger train. Miss Margaret Carter, 17, and that the practice of rewarding the faithful by sending them to him "with a slip from central office," was developed within the last two years.

"Judge Olvany may not know it," said Coler, "but the secretary, James F. Egan, is doing it."

He said he was not supposed to appoint a washerwoman or anybody with a salary of more than $850 without the official O. K. of the organization.

Mayor Walker, in denying that he had ever sought patronage from Coler, said:

"I never recommended an appointment to him since I took office."

The train was N. C. & St. L. passenger train number four, northbound from Atlanta to Nashville, and was in charge of Engineer E. D. Quinn and Conductor J. W. Longley.

Auto Crash Victim Dies.

E. K. Hardin, 50, of 895 Carmel avenue, who was struck down as he alighted from a street car at Highland and Cromwell avenues Thursday afternoon, died early Friday morning at Georgia Baptist hospital of injuries received in the accident.

E. M. Downing, of 302 Candler street, the driver of the car which struck Mr. Hardin, was charged with reckless driving.

Clyde Watson, 5-year-old son, of Mrs. E. R. Watson, of 393 Vannoy street, was still at Grady hospital late Friday night in a serious condition from head injuries received Thursday afternoon when he was struck down on East Fair street by an automobile, the driver of which police did not identify. It was at first thought that his injuries were not of a serious nature, but further examination revealed that his skull

PRISON GATES CLOSE AGAIN ON DICKERSON

Notorious Criminal Back in Kilby Following His Second Break.

Montgomery, Ala., February 1.—(AP)—Roy Dickerson, notorious criminal, tonight was just a "number" again after four months of freedom following his second break from Kilby prison here last October 2.

Dickerson was returned to Kilby today by Deputy Warden Frank Boswell and G. H. Bush, state transfer agent, from Salt Lake City, where the Alabama bank robber was captured last week.

The officers left the train at a small station several miles from Montgomery and completed the trip to the penitentiary in the automobile of Boswell's father, Hamp Draper, head of the state convict department, and Warden R. A. Burns were unaware of the prisoner's arrival until called at the local station, where they had gathered to meet the train. Secrecy was made necessary in making the transfer, Boswell said, because of attempts to rescue Dickerson before they departed from the Utah city.

The bank bandit immediately was placed in a cell at the prison reserved only for condemned prisoners, where he is to remain until Monday morning, when he will be assigned work in the prison's cotton mill.

Boswell commended Utah officials for their aid in returning Dickerson to Alabama and stated that the bank robber's arrest was brought about through the alertness of a Salt Lake

City patrolman. Dickerson was arrested, he said, in a stolen automobile only a short time before a $45,000 pay roll was carried by the parked car. Confederates of Dickerson in the car escaped, the officer said, and Dickerson was captured only after a chase of several blocks.

Dickerson was serving a 25-year sentence for bank robbery when he made his last break from the Montgomery penitentiary with two confederates, Ivanhoe Silva and Frank Cook. Twenty-two years of the sentence remain to be served.

Neighbors' Row Over Electric Meter Results in Death

Pittsburgh, February 1.—(AP)—Henry Smith, 30, Mifflin township grocer, was shot and killed today as he was chopping down electric wires leading to the home of Fritz Siedeschuch, 40, tenant of an adjoining house belonging to Smith. Police said the shooting was the culmination of a quarrel over a jointly used electric light meter.

$500,000 DAMAGE AS FIRE DESTROYS CHICAGO BUILDING

Chicago, February 1.—(AP)—Fire of mysterious origin virtually destroyed a four-story brick building at 701 to 725 Fulton Market early today, causing a loss estimated at $500,000. Forty-eight pieces of apparatus were employed in fighting the blaze. The structure housed offices of several tool manufacturing firms.

ARTHUR STILLWELL LEFT AN ESTATE OF ONLY $1,000

New York, February 1.—(AP)—Arthur E. Stillwell, retired railroad builder and former president of the Kansas City, Pittsburgh & Gulf railroad, left an estate of only $1,000, his will showed today when it was filed for probate. The estate is divided between two sisters and a sister-in-law.

Turn Your Head, It's Lacy, One of the Newest Models At Fashion Show in Paris

Colors Predominate and Latest Craze for Milady Is To Sleep in Registered Nightdress.

BY RALPH HEINZ.

United News Staff Correspondent.

Paris, February 1.—(United News.)—There is but little new under the sun in the fashion world of Paris this week despite the blossoming of new models in the last two days.

Fashion czars can still make a million look like a debutante but they show waiting originality in doing it. The most apparent innovation is the extension of names to the smartest creations in nightdresses. The latest craze in Paris is to sleep in a registered nightdress. The name of each slip is registered in the great book and becomes the exclusive property of those few buyers of the basted night.

No smart Parisian would sleep in an unregistered nightdress so there is a run on this late freak of fashion and the supply of names apparently is getting low. Some of the "nightie register" names are "Midnight To-night," "Dream of Me" and "Alarm Clock."

The dressmakers hope the innovation will revive the industry and they prescribe nightgowns to replace pajamas for women. There are two extremes of length, long and flowing or short, for the modern girl. The latter drop just below the knee.

Colors Predominate.

The smartest models are in colors of lace and crepe de chine. One entirely of lace is called "Turn Your Head."

But in street wear there is little change. The length of the skirt remains about the same—just a little longer than before. There may be panels hanging below the hem, or uneven edges to make the dresses appear longer, but in the new spring collections the knees are still visible. The skirts are fuller and the waistline higher.

There is a tendency to allow dresses to slip down in the back, giving the impression of the wearer leaning over backwards.

Women, the dressmakers say, are happy with the short, comfortable skirts and the makers are giving their clientele simplicity and plenty of it. And despite the many predictions that the "plump figure" is coming back, the slim waisted girl still reigns supreme in the shops.

Little pleated skirts are still in vogue as the shops launch their spring ideas with pomp and ceremony.

Taffeta Riding Coats.

The half-tail riding coat line is featured and printed taffeta is much in favor. Printed velvet, so popular last year, has not disappeared. Printed silks in old fashioned floral designs are among the new offerings.

So long as the supply of pheasants holds out, it will not be difficult to keep up with the spring ready-to-wear models. Little pheasant feathers must not from the bathings of men's wear and no woman's bonnet will be complete unless it wears its feather, the czars have said.

Other distinguishing features in the new spring styles are the use of olive skin. Her eyes looked out brightly.

"Sheriff, you know I am innocent, why do they want to hang me?"

"I know, Miss Ada, but we have done all we can, come on," said the sheriff with glistering eyes.

Asks for Paraphrase.

Arthur Martel, the jailer, reached down to put on her patent leather black pumps. But he found of the woman too fat to get on them.

He had administered to her for 18 months and he didn't want to see her die. His hands trembled.

"I will help you, Mr. Martel," said the woman, clearly. With that she reached down and fastened the straps across her bust.

"Come on, Mr. Ada," pleaded Sheriff Peot. "Come on with me now."

"Where is the doctor?" cried Ada. "Where is he?"

"He is down there," said the sheriff. "Oh, is he?" she asked.

"She thought a moment and looked at Father J. J. Rousseau, pastor of the Church of Assumption, seated in front of her. She smiled. "Oh, well, I suppose I must change this life for a better one," she said.

She stood erect and walked from the cell with her left arm around the neck of Jailer Martel. She had only seven feet to walk from her cell to the two steel doors, extending out from her cell tier, making the death trap.

Her eyes were blinded by a white handkerchief and she did not see the rope hanging from a steel eye in the roof to the corner of an adjoining cell as she took her place on the top.

As she stood there, with the jailers trussing her hands behind her back and her legs at the knees with a clothes line, she spoke:

"My mother! My mother! Oh, my God, isn't this a terrible thing? Don't let me hang here too long. Don't let me suffer. God, forgive everybody. Isn't this a terrible thing? (This is awful. This is murder itself.)" with the cross were twisted from her fingers and she was carried to a cell cot by four men.

During all this Dr. Dreher was held a few feet away in a cell behind a solid steel door. He could see nothing, but could hear all.

The trap was refastened, the rope readjusted, the solid door was drawn open by Sheriff Peot and his assistants.

Dr. Dreher had both hands around the neck of Dr. J. A. McCormack, minister of the Franklin Methodist church, following him in prayer.

The doctor turned quickly. His one good eye, the other being glass, shed a soft tear for the first time since his trial. He stepped quickly forward, grasped Sheriff Peot by the hand.

He then grasped Jailer Martel's hand: "I don't blame you, I forgive everybody," he said.

He walked vigorously out of the cell, up the ten winding stairs to the roof, followed by his minister praying aloud. As he mounted the stairs he added:

"Poor Miss Ada has gone. God have pity on her soul. God have pity. Oh, my God!"

Speaks to Reporter.

Looking down below, he called out to Meigs G. Frost, New Orleans reporter, who had written news stories favorable to the condemned pair:

"Mr. Frost, you know we did not do it. I thank you for what you have done."

As the rope was adjusted, he cried out: "All of you know I am innocent. I didn't do it. This is injustice."

The black cowl was placed over his head.

"Oh, God, have mercy. Have mercy. Turning his black, cloth-covered head to the hangman, he said: "Just don't let me choke to death."

"Clang went the steel gallows trap again."

At 12:41 physicians said he was dead. The body was cut down, and the undertakers called from below and it was taken to the morgue to a cot.

Funeral Within Hour.

Later both bodies were removed to undertaking establishments. As the bodies lay there the town clock, under a statue of justice standing on the hour of one, this man and woman had been hurled from life to death and given to the undertakers within an hour.

Within another hour, the bell above Father Rousseau's Church of Assumption began slowly tolling the funeral knell.

Mr. Lebeuf's body was borne in a hearse through the streets followed by the funeral cortege of relatives and friends. They grouped in front of the church as the pink, flowered coffin was brought in.

Little Lady Lebeuf, the year-old daughter of the hanged woman, looked with horror at her mother's coffin, clutched a young girl standing near and wept out her heart.

The church, the good, the father performed the Catholic ritual for the dead and the relatives took all that remained on earth of Ada Bonner Lebeuf back to her home in nearby Morgan City, freed of last from the tortures of suspense in a jail cell.

Talks to Husband's Spirit.

The woman's body will be laid to rest beside that of her husband, "Hon," she called him, just before her death, and one of her babies.

Her last request was that she be buried with her husband, whom she loved and for whose murder she died.

During the morning she talked freely as if addressing her husband. "Hon, you don't want them to hang me, do you? You know I didn't want you killed. You know you told me to call the doctor. You know I loved you. But they are going to hang me. You know I didn't want you to die. You know I wish I could go back to my children. Hon, you want me to go back, I know. But I will meet you soon, Hon."

She then counted out the hours on her fingers, "nine, ten, eleven, twelve." She kept at all morning, but the same human being could not stand there to witness it. It was beyond human endurance.

Dr. Dreher's body was turned over to the undertaker to deliver to his family, who plan to bury it at Ocean, La., far to the north of the state. Mrs. Dreher, a gracious, high red woman, waited at her home in Morgan City for the delivery of the body of her mate, who was accused of violating the laws of church and state by intimacies with the woman with whom he died on the scaffold and which led to the hanging.

For which James Beadle, a trader, also is serving life in the state prison.

Both the man and the woman went across at peace with God but grief in their hearts.

The woman was said in not being able to bid her old crippled mother goodbye but she was not equal to the ordeal and the man was disappointed because he could not have a last farewell with his son, Ted, who had been in the Texas oil fields, too far away to come. The last thoughts of both were for their families.

So Ada Bonner Lebeuf and Dr. Thomas E. Dreher died, and the state was satisfied.

DRY FUND CHANGE STARTS IN HOUSE

The house vote of yesterday which paved the way for sending the bill to conference and in the house report.

Representative Green, democrat, Florida, demanded removal of the fluid, charging that the display was in violation of the rules of the house.

Representative Lathrop, republican, New York, defended Celler, declaring that the tonic was sold under a government permit, but the chair held that the bottle should be removed from the table.

The discussion continued until Celler had a pate take the bottle off the floor.

In the senate during his analysis of the house vote, Senator Harris declared yesterday's ballot showed that republican house leaders had been joined in the vote by the leaders of Tammany hall, the Philadelphia machine, the Chicago Thompson machine and others opposed to enforcement of the eighteenth amendment.

Judge and Lawyers Waiting as Jury Debates Gallogly Fate

While the hours dragged by in Judge Virlyn B. Moore's courtroom Friday, with a deadlocked jury in a barred room nearby debating the fate of Dick Gallogly, counsel for the defense and the state prosecutor's staff wandered here and there or stood in small groups. In the above photograph, taken late in the afternoon, are gathered together, from left to right, Lowry Arnold, defense counsel, Henry Meeks, also a member of the Gallogly defense, Solicitor General John A. Boykin, with Judge Moore, just behind Mr. Boykin; Paul S. Etheridge, of defense counsel, and Assistant Solicitor General Ed. A. Stephens.

GALLOGLY CASE ENDS IN MISTRIAL

agreed it was futile to hope longer for a verdict.

When the jury returned to the courtroom at 6 o'clock, Judge Moore asked if there had been any change in the situation. Informed that there had not been, he immediately discharged the jury, thanked its members for their services and permitted them to go home.

Amplifying his statement that Gallogly would be retried as soon as possible, Solicitor General Boykin said he had not determined whether he would again face a jury for alleged participation in the murder of Smith or for the slaying of S. H. Meeks, grocery clerk, slain in a robbery at the A. & P. store, 1004 Hemphill street on the night of October 6, 10 days before the killing of George Tuley football player.

He was placed in jail at Athens and returned to Atlanta the same night, hurried to the office of Chief Deputy Solicitor General Stephens and questioned concerning the murders. He refused to make a statement. Not until he appeared before the jury Wednesday did the accused open his lips. Steadfastly he refused to affirm or deny the charges.

Harsh Found Guilty.

Harsh went to trial before Superior Judge E. D. Thomas, January 1935, on a charge of robbery. He was found guilty and sentenced to life in the state prison.

Gallogly, with his mother, Mrs. Worth E. Yankey, and surrounded by other members of his family, was in court when the mistrial order was handed down by Judge Moore.

He had been held in the office of Sheriff James I. Lowry during the day after being in court at the opening of the trial. The session, when Judge Moore recharged the jury in compliance with its request made Thursday night after three hours of deliberation had failed to result in a verdict.

Reuben Arnold, chief of Gallogly's defense counsel was not in court when the mistrial was ordered. Other interested lawyers present besides Mr. Boykin, Mr. Lowry, Mr. Etheridge, Chief Deputy Solicitor General Ed. A. Stephens and Sam D. Hewlett, R. P. Gambrell and Henry Meeks, of the defense staff.

The courtroom was well filled when the court announced its decision to discharge the jury. Nearly every seat was filled and a few persons lined the walls. All Friday a milling throng of people had waited outside for a verdict. The throng included a large number of women and girls of high school age, many of them friends of the defendant, and others merely curious.

Gallogly, in charge of Deputy Sheriff James White, was returned to his cell in the Fulton tower immediately after adjournment where he will be held until recalled to trial. The youth also is under indictment in connection with the murder of Meeks, and no bond was set for him.

Court Reads Charge.

Shortly after 9 o'clock Friday morning, after being locked up Thursday night, the jury, through the foreman, O. W. Settle, 1328 Stewart avenue, asked the judge to read the charge in his charge relative to the subject of conspiracy.

The court explained that he would be obliged to read the entire charge, and he did so. The charge was long and the jury listened with attention. The judge emphasized those points in his charge that seemed to confuse the jury, and made particular reference to the conspiracy charge.

Reading from the text of his original charge, the court said: "The acts of one conspirator are the acts of all, but each responsible for the acts of the other only insofar as they serve in furtherance of the conspiracy."

Foreman Settle, after the judge finished reading, said on behalf of the jury: "That seems to cover the point, judge. The jury then filed out of the courtroom and resumed their deliberations behind locked doors."

Jurors Arrive at Court.

The jurors arrived in the court at 8:40 o'clock. When court was called, they were seated in the gallery. At 9:05 o'clock spectators filled all the seats in the room, with a few standing. Gallogly arrived at the courtroom before 9 o'clock and was confined in the ante-room of the judge's chambers until court was convened.

He was accompanied by his mother and other relatives, Mrs. Smith, the slain clerk's widow, was not in court, but Leon B. Smith, her brother-in-law, and his wife, together with several friends, were on the scene early.

The case was given to the jury at 9:27 o'clock Thursday night. At 10 o'clock Judge Moore asked if there was a chance for an immediate verdict and was told that if given 15 or 20 minutes before a decision might be reached. However, half an hour later the 12 men reported they still had not come to an agreement. It was then that the court ordered the recess until Friday morning.

Jury Sends for Judge.

After Judge Moore, members of the prosecuting staff, defense counsel and a crowd of spectators which had filled the courtroom had started home, word came from the jury that they had reached a verdict.

Police Friday were searching for a thief with a strong back and an eye for the artistic who Thursday stole a heavy antique Chippendale settee from the porch of the Elliott Antique shop at 511 Peachtree street. The piece was valued at about $1,250.

According to store officials a large and well dressed white man came into the shop during the late afternoon and after appraising several pieces left the place. Soon afterward the settee was missed and investigation revealed that the man had carried the settee, weighing about 100 pounds, on his shoulder to a waiting truck.

Groundhog Decides Today

LITTLE ANIMAL EXPECTED TO SEE SHADOW

On Atlanta's Weather Menu

Two well-known personages, the Weatherman and the Proverbial Groundhog, today hold the climatic fate of Atlanta in their hands. In other words if the Groundhog, sticking his nose out of his warm burrow for the first time since last fall, sees his shadow falling before him he will promptly retire and sleep through six more long cold weeks before he will officially welcome spring, according to those who consider the little animal a weather seer. Conversely, as everyone knows, if the Weatherman veils the sun's face in clouds Mr. P. Groundhog will be encouraged and will stay with us to greet an early spring.

C. F. von Hermann, local representative of the Weatherman, late Friday night could offer little encouragement, however, and predicted a bright but cold day also stating that this bright, cold day might be followed immediately by others equally bright but less cold. The Washington forecast for all Georgia, however, calls for cloudy weather.

February was ushered in, incidentally with the coldest temperatures of the season, the mercury at one time dropping to 20 degrees. The best it could do was of climate was a mark of 23 degrees. Mr. von Hermann stated that it probably would get just about as cold today but expressed hope that the maximum might be about 10 degrees higher than Friday's.

AGREE ON RATE LISTS

ON INLAND WATERWAY

Washington, February 1.—(AP)—Secretary Davis today announced he had been informed by Major General Ashburn, chairman of the inland waterways corporation, that a tentative joint rate agreement had been reached between the corporation and officials of the various railroads.

It was said the agreement, an outgrowth of a recent conference here, still must be approved by the secretary of war and the railroad executives.

"I appreciate the fact that the joint rate agreement has been reached," Secretary Davis stated. "If the agreement is approved, I regard it as the most important development for the whole waterways movement in coordination and cooperation with the railroads that has ever been accomplished."

Mr. Davis, new at Fort Benning, Ga., authorized the announcement through the war department here.

A white woman was attacked late Friday night by an unmasked white man on North Avenue, near Seminole, just after she had alighted from a street car at Highland and North avenues. Call Officers Ginn and McGarrity investigated.

A. R. BRIDWELL HELD UP, ROBBED BY AUTO BANDITS

A. R. Bridwell, of 106 Vassar street, reported to police Friday night that as he was walking along Pulliam street near Vassar, three nattily attired young men in a roadster drove up to the curb, pulled a gun on him and robbed him of $20. They sped away after the holdup.

One hundred convicts will begin work Monday on the new Bobby Jones golf course, Atlanta's first municipal golf course, and operated 18-hole course, was announced Friday by J. S. White, chairman of the parks committee of council. Work was to have begun Wednesday but due to inclement weather conditions, it was delayed.

The new course will be one of the most modern in the country, having been surveyed by the firm of Stiles and Van Kleeck, nationally-known golf course engineers.

Establishment of the course is the first step in development of one of the finest memorial parks in the south. It will be called Atlanta Memorial park in honor of the heroes of the blue and gray who gave their lives in the struggle for possession of Atlanta in the war between the states.

Fulton county will furnish the labor to complete the course in honor of Bobby Jones, king of golf. Markers will be placed at particularly historic points in the tract, which, when plans for it are completed, will extend from Peachtree road on both sides of Peachtree creek to the Chattahoochee river. The park will contain more than 500 acres, and will be for its development are consummated.

Elkhorn, Wis., February 1.—(AP)—J. C. Salzer, 28, who described himself as a former theological student and one-time leader of religious services in the army, was held today on a liquor law violation charge. Officers who arrested him last night said they found 135 gallon tins of alcohol in his apartment.

A confession of the prisoner was declared to have signed stated that the alcohol was being taken from Chicago to LaCrosse, Wis., where his wife and three children live.

Salzer said his father is a retired minister in Galveston, Texas. "This was to have been my last trip," Salzer told the officers.

RUM RUNNER LOSES OUT ON HIS LAST TRIP WITH BOOZE

HEALTH EDUCATION MOVEMENT IS LAUDED

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale Commends Work of Junior Chamber.

The good health educational movement being sponsored by the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce is a "sensible, practical idea and one that should be productive of excellent results," Mayor I. N. Ragsdale stated Friday in a letter to Jonathan H. Woody, president of the chamber.

In predicting excellent results from the Atlanta Good Health exposition, to be held in the city auditorium the week of April 8, Mayor Ragsdale says that he feels that the campaign will be "doubly effective" sponsored by the junior chamber.

The letter of Mayor Ragsdale follows:

Mr. J. H. Woody, President, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sir: My attention has been called to the plan of the Junior Chamber of Commerce to sponsor a special health campaign during the week of April 8. Health is a subject of prime importance to everybody, but unfortunately everybody does not recognize its importance, and a great amount of education is necessary. I understand that it is the aim of the Junior Chamber of Commerce to conduct a campaign of general education, including various essential phases of health activity. This is a sensible, practical idea, one that should be productive of excellent results. I wish to commend the campaign, which

HARLEY-DAVIDSON DEALERS IN SOUTH END CONFERENCE

Dealers in Harley-Davidson motorcycles in the southeast Friday closed a conference at the Henry Grady hotel, which was featured by attendance of Walter Davidson, president of the company, and other officials. A training school for motorcycle dealers and salesmen was held during the convention. A banquet Thursday night was the chief attraction on the program of entertainment.

Speakers at the conference included President Davidson; T. A. Miller, vice president; J. G. Kilport, Ralph Enos, R. S. McMillan, W. R. Pitts and J. S. Balmer.

Among the banquet guests were Sam Wright, Chattanooga; R. L. Sumner, Augusta; E. Ache, W. Cressy, H. Sweet, Atlanta; W. J. McClellan, Montgomery; G. C. Wharton, Columbus, Miss.; S. H. Power, Columbus, Ga.; I. J. Pruitt, Gadsden; Mr. and Mrs. G. Keefman, Atlanta; G. J. Church, Raleigh; W. H. Bishop, Charlotte; E. H. Hamer, Bristol, Va.; R. Kendrick, Atlanta; L. G. Buckner, J. B. Austin, Jacksonville; P. C. McCullough, Nashville; Gail Joyce, Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Baisden, Mr. and Mrs. Olen Pickens, Guy Cunningham, Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Walters, Orlando; Rich Burdette, Birmingham; Cliff Walker, Macon, and G. L. Rice, Valdosta.

I think it will be doubly effective sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Very truly,
I. N. RAGSDALE, Mayor.

LINDY ENDS N. Y. MIAMI HOP IN ELEVEN HOURS

Colonel Arrives in Florida City To Take First Air Mail to Panama.

Miami, Fla., February 1.—(AP)—Colonel Charles Lindbergh completed a one-stop flight from New York to Miami at 6:40 p. m. today after an elapsed time of 10 hours and 55 minutes, to prepare for his inauguration of air mail service to Panama on Monday morning. His one stop during the flight was at Jacksonville at 2:37 p. m., where he refueled his plane and proceeded here after an eight-minute delay.

Tonight he was quartered at the Belle Isle estate of Joseph H. Adams, at Miami Beach, next door to the Florida beach headquarters of President-elect Hoover. The Adams residence is the guest house for the Hoover party, but the president-elect, on a fishing trip off Long Key, will not return until some time tomorrow. Colonel Lindbergh will be Mr. Hoover's guest at one of the Sunday meals, it was said tonight.

Colonel Lindbergh, technical adviser for Pan-American Airways, Inc., the flying company which holds contracts for international air service to Nassau, Cuba, Porto Rico, Pan-American, West Indian and Central American countries, will pilot a Sikorsky plane on the first trip of the Miami-Panama air mail service, leaving Miami at 6 o'clock Monday morning.

The trans-Atlantic flier will leave the field as dawn breaks on his twenty-second birthday, and will spend three days on the trip that is scheduled to end at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at Cristobal, Canal Zone.

Lindbergh left New York at 6:45 o'clock this morning in a Falcon biplane, with what was thought to be sufficient fuel to carry him to Miami, although it had previously been stated that he would not attempt a non-stop flight. It had also been said that he would not arrive here before Saturday morning. The desire of the man who first flew from New York to Paris in a non-stop flight to evade crowds and their accompanying excitement, however, was apparently responsible for his arrival here ahead of schedule.

Colonel Lindbergh will be entertained at a luncheon at the Pan-American air port tomorrow and during the afternoon will do exhibition flying with a cabin plane. At night he will attend a banquet in Miami of representatives of the flying company, which it is understood is an international development in air communications will be the general topic of discussion.

No other flights have been announced for Colonel Lindbergh on Sunday, it is understood.

Before he landed at the Pan-American air port, the flier circled the field several times. He made a perfect three-point landing to gain the applause of the few spectators who knew of his early arrival, and taxied his biplane to the hangar, where it will stay during his visit here.

Shortly afterward he was taken to the Adams estate where he had dinner with members of the Adams family, who are here, and with Pan-American company officials.

JAMES E. WEST, BOY SCOUT HEAD, PAYS BRIEF VISIT

James E. West of New York, chief executive of the Boy Scouts of America, paid Atlanta a hurried call Friday, while en route from New Orleans to Washington, and during his half hour stay conferred with local scout leaders. Mr. West stopped at the Terminal station from noon until about 12:30 o'clock before resuming his trip to Washington, where he is to attend a conference of national scout leaders.

Local leaders briefly outlined the plan for the coming year for scouts in this vicinity and made an informal report on the work of the past year.

The chief executive complimented the Atlanta Scout council and expressed himself as pleased with their plans for 1929.

Those meeting with Mr. West were H. Hentz, president of the Atlanta Scout council; T. W. Moore, past president of the council; William D. Ellis III, Atlanta scout commissioner; Dr. Hal C. Miller, president of the Atlanta Scout council; J. B. Stevens, a director of the local council; Alexander Patterson, field scout executive from Rome; W. A. Dobson, Atlanta scout executive, and Douglas Oliver, Atlanta's noted eagle scout.

HERE'S SAD NEWS FOR RUM RUNNER WHO LOST AUTO

Some alleged "whisky-toter," identity unknown, was meandering leisurely up a hill in Dawson county Friday morning when he is gasoline buggy of some make carrying a cargo of some 90 gallons of the well known forbidden beverage. Suddenly he saw approaching in the opposite direction another buggy bearing a cargo of three prohibition agents, J. B. Wallace, W. A. McGinnis and A. R. Bramblett. Their car also was of a popular make, but of a horsepower much above that of the unknown one, so the latter immediately leaped from his vehicle and disappeared in the woods.

So far this tale might seem to be a recounting of a perfectly normal procedure, but the whole story has not yet come to light. The truth of the matter is that the agent's car was merely coasting down the aforementioned hill suffering from a severe fracture of the drive-shaft, a mishap which left gravity as the car's sole means of power. Had this fact been known, the driver of the whisky car could have escaped scot free, according to Agent Wallace.

As it was, the whisky was poured out and the abandoned car used to draw its disabled brother to a garage in the next town.

The stills ranging in size from 35 to 85 gallons have been seized and destroyed in the past few days by federal prohibition agents, according to reports received by H. P. Wright, deputy prohibition administrator. Other equipment destroyed included 29 fermenters, 11,000 gallons of mash or beer and over 100 gallons of whisky.

The reports also included the arrest of six men and one automobile.

"RABBIT HUNTER" IS SENT TO JAIL FOR HAVING GUN

Orlando, Fla., February 1.—A "rabbit hunter" who carried too much shooting apparatus started a 60-day jail sentence here today for "disorderly conduct and possession of a deadly weapon."

The man gave his name as G. J. Opperman, of Chicago.

Police said when Opperman was arrested that he apparently was "ready for any emergency." On his person they found an automatic pistol, two extra cartridge clips, a tear gas bombing device and extra gas cartridges, skeleton keys, a diamond pointed glass cup, flashlight, colloid, rings and a cartridge belt.

Opperman told officers he used the pistol "to shoot rabbits with." He could not explain the other arsenal accoutrements, they said.

WOMEN CHARGED WITH KIDNAPING IN INDICTMENT

An indictment charging Mrs. Nancy Sexton and Mrs. Mrs. Carl W. Sexton with kidnaping Margaret Lee Studstill, a minor, from the home of her father, C. F. Studstill, at 218 Powell street, was returned Friday by the Fulton grand jury. The case was handled by Mrs. Davis and Mrs. McDonough, of the city police women's bureau. Mrs. Sexton is an aunt of the Studstill child, and Mrs. Carter is Mrs. Sexton's daughter, it was stated.

Three-Minute Relief From Grippy Aches

When one of those grippies, aching colds comes on and you need immediate relief, ask your druggist for a package of "B-C." Three minutes after taking "B-C," the pain begins to recede, your nerves are rested, the most welcome relief sets in.

"B-C" contains five ingredients that function together for the relief of pain regardless of its origin, accomplishing in a few minutes what no one-drug preparation can do under one to three hours.

In the treatment of agonizing headaches, neuralgia or earaches due to colds and flu, "B-C" is unequalled. It is absolutely safe, free from opiates or habit-forming drugs and may be taken as often as needed to relieve pain. Sold by all druggists in 100 and 250 packages.

MUTUAL RESPECT BETWEEN PEOPLES URGED BY BISHOP

With a plea for mutual respect between peoples as the foundation of a world-wide democracy, Bishop Francis J. McConnell, of New York, Friday afternoon closed a series of four addresses at Gammon Theological academy on "The Wider Significance of the African Problem." There are no social or legislative panaceas for this problem, according to Bishop McConnell. Its solution, he said, must be sought on the basis of Christian attitudes and ideals, which involve mutual respect, good will and helpfulness.

"I doubt if any racial group ought to have final authority over any other," said Bishop McConnell. "Even where there is trusteeship it should be exercised jointly and with full consideration for the welfare of the dependent group. Real democracy must take into account the highest well-being of all, and that means opportunity for each group to develop to its fullest capacity and make its greatest possible contribution to the common store."

Speaking at 11 o'clock Friday on "Present Day Tendencies," Bishop McConnell emphasized the necessity that the different racial groups earnestly seek to understand each other. "The underhanded tendency of the times," he said, "is the growth of such efforts for understanding. All other solutions will fail. Economic forces will not work it out, nor education, nor segregation, nor self-segregation on the part of the negro. Hate and violence are worse than useless. Only understanding will avail, leading to mutual helpfulness and cooperation. I am not pessimistic about the situation, for there are many sincere people of both races who are earnestly working along these lines."

Morningside Park Receivers Ordered To Pay Dividends

Upon application by the receivers for Morningside Park, Inc., Judge John D. Humphries, of Fulton superior court, Friday signed an order for an additional dividend of 15 per cent. Ronald Ransom and W. D. Thomson, the receivers, informed the court that they have on hand $42,177.74, or enough money to pay the 15 per cent dividend on proven claims of $280,000, with enough left over for a reasonable reserve for contingencies.

The receivers pointed out that all obligations against the estate, including the cost of administration to date, have been paid, together with a previous dividend of 25 per cent. The receivers were appointed on the petition of T. R. Bennett, who at the time was superintendent of Georgia banks.

Few Late Buyers Appear as Auto Tag Sale Closes

One day's receipts at the motor vehicle department at the state capital totaled $252,000. This was Thursday, the day of the biggest rush to secure 1929 license tags. Although, under the law, autoists still could legally get their tags on Friday, February 1, the crowds had practically disappeared yesterday, a mere handful of late purchasers seeking the numbered plates, compared to the constant line of hundreds which waited throughout Thursday.

Total sales for the year will not be known until today when the receipts of the mail order branch of the business are totaled.

A remarkable record was achieved by George H. Carwell, motor vehicle commissioner and his staff, when the office closed Thursday night with every application by mail filled and the tags started on its way through the mails to its owner. This record has been made every night since the rush began, though it became harder and harder as the end approached and the climax was only reached Thursday.

The Thursday sales were divided into $100,000 through the mail order department and $92,000 through the cash windows.

Beginning this morning it is illegal to drive a motor vehicle with a 1928 tag and the duty of rounding up delinquents now devolves upon the county sheriffs and other enforcement officers.

GRANT STORE LEADER VISITOR IN ATLANTA

R. D. Gardner, vice president of the W. T. Grant company, in charge of merchandising and advertising, is a visitor here from New York, inspecting the local Grant store and making a survey preliminary to the opening of additional Grant stores here. He will leave early next week for Florida, where he will inspect several proposed locations for new stores.

Morehouse College Students and Faculty Exceed $15,000 Quota

Subscribing $16,950.50, the faculty and students of Morehouse college Friday morning gave great impetus to that institution's $300,000 endowment campaign by the successful termination of a campus drive for $15,000. This result was attained in four days' work among students and faculty during which almost one hundred per cent of both groups made generous pledges. The campaign took the form of a contest between three groups, the faculty and two divisions of students, the Tigers and the Hornets. The student divisions were under the leadership of R. W. Riley, assisted by Vice Chairman J. H. Wheeler and O. M. Beverly, and a solicitation corps numbering 52. Prof. B. T. Harvey was chairman of the faculty committee which was declared the winner of the contest with a total of its credit of $8,950.

The campaign began Monday and daily reports were made at the morning chapel exercises, showing nearly a third of the $15,000 goal subscribed on the second day; nearly a half on the third; and on the fourth day the total reached the goal. The total announced on the morning of the fifth day exceeded the accepted goal by $1,950.

With this beginning the campaign now will be extended to friends of the institution, white and colored, who will be asked to carry on to complete the goal.

SULPHURIZED OATS BARRED IN GEORGIA BY FARM BOARD

Sulphurized oats, bleached to conceal presence of deleterious properties, may not be shipped into Georgia, under a ruling issued Friday by the state department of agriculture.

Many complaints have recently been received by the department of mules dying after eating such oats. Commissioner Eugene Talmadge stated. The order is effective March 1, after which only United States grades 1, 2 and 3 will be admitted into the state.

CITIZENS IN SECOND WARD WILL MEET WEDNESDAY NIGHT

A meeting for discussion of civic matters of vital import to the second ward will be held at 7:30 o'clock next Wednesday night at the Georgia Avenue school and all citizens of the ward are urged to attend. M. G. Hicks, chairman of the ward citizens' committee, has announced that an interesting program has been arranged and that all those attending will be given the privilege of the floor if they are desirous of making suggestions pertinent to advancement of the ward.

The great effort to increase the endowment of the college to $1,000,000.

RADIO-ING THE AIR WAYS

BY THE DIAL TWISTER.

Reels, jigs and breakdowns give way to the dance music of the present day in a new series of programs by the Intervenor Entertainers, which will be inaugurated through WSB and the N. B. C. system this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Will Perry and his orchestra will be responsible for the syncopated rhythm promised in the new series, while the Intervenor pair, Eddie Jones and Ernie Hare, will supply the comedy and vocal acrobatics in these half-hour periods.

Radio listeners of WSB and 18 other stations of the N. B. C. will be treated to a half-hour of hand music, sponsored by the Pure Oil Company, at 7 o'clock tonight.

Edwin Frank Goldman, celebrated conductor, will direct the hand music of 45 pieces. This program, which will be broadcast from New York, will continue for 42 weeks, offering to the millions of lovers of hand music an opportunity of hearing their favorite interwoven music by the largest band now on the air.

The program follows:

Hand Music with a selection of Goldman's "The Blue Bird"..... Goldman
Hand Music with a selection of Goldman's "The Blue Bird"..... Goldman

The R. C. A. demonstration hour, heard through WSB and the N. B. C. system this afternoon, will include its program of Lewis James, pianist and member of the Revelers Quartet; Frank Black, piano soloist, and director of that group; Merle Johnston, saxophone soloist of the Palmolive Hour; Elizabeth Lennox, contralto, and other vocal and instrumental soloists of regular N. B. C. evening features.

This program will be broadcast at 2:30 o'clock.

Selections will be offered by the R. C. A. dance little symphony and orchestra. As a solo number Mr. Black will play Lewis James, pianist, and member of the Revelers Quartet; Frank Black, piano soloist, and director of that group; Merle Johnston, saxophone soloist of the Palmolive Hour; Elizabeth Lennox, contralto, and other vocal and instrumental soloists of regular N. B. C. evening features.

Selections from Victor Herbert's "Cyrano de Bergerac," which inspired several composers to write music, will be a feature in the white house dinner music to be broadcast through WSB and the N. B. C. system at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Opening with a selection from Kalman's opera, "Miss Springtime," the orchestra under the direction of Hugo Mariani will also play "Danzas de la Maguey," a waltz by Walden, and the popular selection, "You're the Cream in My Coffee" from the musical comedy, "Hold Everything." The harp solo, "Song of the Evening Star," from Wagner's opera, "Tannhauser," will be heard in a rearrangement for cello with orchestral accompaniment.

Rainbow music will be a feature of the coast-to-coast broadcast of the Lucky Strike Dance orchestra over WSB and the N. B. C. system this evening at 9 o'clock.

"There's a Rainbow 'Round My Shoulder" will represent the latest of hits among the tunes that made Broadway Broadway, and its answer will be heard in the selection "Where's That Rainbow?"

There will also be a group of favorite waltzes, including mellow dance melodies of other days. These include "The Prince of Pilsen" and "The Message of the Violet," "Charanga," and "Three O'Clock in the Morning." Another spirited number will be the Argentine tango, "Dengoza."

EARLY SESSION FAVORED BY AUTO ASSOCIATION

Savannah, Ga., February 1.—(P)—

Sentiment in favor of asking Governor Hardman to call a general meeting of various organizations, representatives throughout the state to consider legislation for a bond issue for improved highways was expressed at a conference held at the city hall this afternoon by officers of the Georgia State Automobile association and local officials and good roads advocates.

Principal speakers were A. W. McKeand, managing director of the Georgia State Automobile association; Senator Shelby Myrick and Harvey Granger, Edgar L. Worthman, president of the Savannah Motor club, presided.

Senator Myrick spoke of the Macon Chamber of Commerce plan to arrange a meeting in February for the purpose of showing the legislators how strong a sentiment there is for a bond issue for the improvement of the roads.

He emphasized the need of showing the people that the bond issue for the improvement of the roads is derived from gasoline and automobile taxes.

Wrecking crews were dispatched to the scene and other trains on the line were routed during the remainder of the day over the Louisville and Nashville tracks between Henderson and Nashville.

Officials said they hoped traffic could be resumed over the line tonight.

R. N. Hudson, president of the road, said the wreck today took place on the line in the history of the road since its opening in 1891. He added that no passenger has ever been killed in a wreck on the road.

The wreck today was the second fatal one on the road since it was opened in 1891. The first fatal one occurred in 1908, when a passenger car was wrecked on the road.

The wreck occurred in a twenty-five foot cut and on a curve of sixty degrees.

SEARS, ROEBUCK

IN 20-YEAR LEASE

AT CHARLOTTE

Charlotte, N. C., February 1.—(P)—

Leasing of approximately 50,000 square feet of floor space for the new building by Sears, Roebuck & Co. for a 20-year period, involving between $750,000 and $1,000,000, and proposed construction of an extra floor on the structure, was made public here today.

The Charlotte branch of Sears, Roebuck & Co., frequently termed "the world's largest store," is planned to be the equal of the Atlanta branch, which at the present time is the foremost unit of the organization in the south.

Mrs. J. R. Hornady Is Honor Guest At Lovely Tea

Honoring Mrs. John R. Hornady, president of the Atlanta Woman's club, 200 women gathered for tea in the beautiful banquet hall of the Woman's clubhouse Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Irving S. Thomas, past president, presided over the large U-shaped tea table, where the guests were seated and which was beautifully adorned with baskets of carnations and roses. With sprays of fern completing the decorations, Mrs. Harry G. Poole was in charge of decorations.

Place cards marked attractively the covers arranged for several distinguished guests, who were introduced and responded briefly, following an informal greeting by the president. Those introduced were Mrs. L. G. Hardman, wife of the Governor of Georgia; Mayor I. N. Ragsdale and Mrs. Ragsdale; Mrs. John M. Slaton, Mrs. J. M. High, Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, Mrs. P. H. Jeter, Mrs. Frances Whiteside, Miss Mary Brent Whiteside, Mrs. Kate Green Hess, Mrs. Harvey Ellis, R. J. McKinney and Mrs. McKinney, Mrs. Edgar Neely and others. Past presidents were also guests of the occasion.

A delightful musical program was rendered by three of Atlanta's most talented artists. Mrs. S. G. Stokes was heard in several vocal numbers and Miss Lucile Bush rendered a group of violin numbers, accompanied at the piano by Miss Virginia Morris.

For Ten Years We Have Been Advertising---

Good and Bad Furniture

Until we bought the Piedmont Hotel furnishings we did not know ourselves what BAD furniture really meant. We took all of the Piedmont Hotel furnishings and have since decided that it was the kind of furniture we advertise as BAD furniture. On opening day the buyers were so numerous that at three different times policemen found it necessary to shut the doors to keep the crowds back. Our 36 salesmen could not wait on the buyers fast enough. In 5 days we sold $48,567 worth of BAD and ASIS furniture. Our BAD furniture must have had value or the public would not have bought it.

NEWAND ASIS

Last Monday, Through the Federal Court, We Bought the Brand-New Stock of the American Furniture Co., for 28c on the Dollar

The Greatest Pick-Up Known to Atlanta Furniture Men

This entirely new stock of the American Furniture and Carpet Company was first shown August 6, 1928. It is a marvelous stock of furniture selected by the president, Mr. R. A. Gordon, himself, as a result of several months in a diligent search for the newest and most beautiful styles in furniture. He believed that Atlanta wanted the best and for Atlanta he purchased one of the most beautiful stocks ever shown. This was assembled at the Atlanta store of the American Furniture and Carpet Company, corner Auburn Avenue and Pryor street.

The best designed furniture from Luce, Sligh and other Grand Rapids manufacturers was chosen by Mr. Gordon... all NEW furniture and all selected for the Atlanta store since last July. The stock is complete... everything from glass candlesticks to $1,200.00 Grand Rapids Dining Room Suites.

This is GOOD, this is NEW FURNITURE. Sale starts this morning!

Miss Fluker Weds W. A. Stokes, Jr., At Beautiful Church Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Fluker and William Arthur Stokes, Jr., was beautifully solemnized at 6 o'clock Friday evening at St. Luke's Episcopal church, uniting representatives of families who have added much to the cultural and social life of the state. The Rev. N. R. High Moor read the marriage service before a representative gathering of southern society.

The church which was elaborately decorated in palms and Easter lilies formed a picturesque setting for the impressive service. Against the altar which was flanked by palms and ferns, two baskets of Easter lilies stood in bold relief. The altar was flanked by mounds of palms and ferns before which single cathedral candles embedded in clusters of Easter lilies held slender white burning tapers which cast a mellow glow over the scene. Ropes of southern smilax garlanded the choir rail before which at artistic intervals stood eight lighted cathedral candles, their bases embedded in Easter lilies. Against the wall beyond the choir stalls were banks of palms and ferns forming a massive background for burning cathedral candles.

Pews which were reserved for the family of the couple were designated with clusters of Easter lilies tied with white satin ribbon. Wall brackets throughout the church were wreathed with sprays of southern smilax.

The Musical Program.

The music for the beautiful ceremony was furnished by St. Luke's choir, accompanied by organ. The organist, Hugh Hodgson, widely known musician. Preceding the ceremony Mr. Hodgson played "Andante," by Wagner; "To Spring," by Grieg; "Solitude," by Grieg; "Evening Star," by Wagner, and "Lohengrin Prelude," by Wagner.

The approach of the wedding party was heralded by the majestic rendition by the choir, accompanied by Mr. Hodgson, of Lohengrin's wedding chorus. Mr. Hodgson sustained a dulcet-toned accompaniment throughout the ceremony. Mendelssohn's bridal chorus was used as the recessional.

The Wedding Party.

The ushers who entered first were Dr. Gordon Gekken, John Glenn, Gene Craig and Forest Adair, Sr. The maid of honor was Miss Evelyn Fluker. Mrs. Forest Adair, Jr., acted as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Edna Otzen, Mrs. Howard Fisch, Miss Elizabeth Murphy, Miss Louise Huddleston, Miss Edie Stokes, sister of the groom, and Miss Jeanette Staples.

They entered singly alternating with the groomsmen who descended the aisle in pairs. They were George Northern, Charlie Wilkes, Lowry Nicholson, Henry Robinson, Wingate Jackson and Cobb Torrance.

Miss Evelyn Fluker was lovely in a coral colored tulle gown fashioned with two circular flounces extending from the waist line on the left side to the hem on the right, where the skirt was gracefully graduated to ankle length. A feature of the lovely dress was the diagonal neckline. She carried a magnificent sheaf of Madame Butterfly roses, pink and lavender sweet peas and pastel shaded pansies, tied with wide pastel shaded moire ribbon.

The Bridesmaids.

The bridesmaids gown were of a pale shade of pink similarly fashioned. The matron of honor wore a gown fashioned along similar lines of Nile green tulle. They carried sheaves of Madame Butterfly roses, pink and lavender sweet peas, pastel shaded pansies, tied with wide pastel shaded moire ribbon. The little flower girls, Miss Cavalline Fincher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace L. Fincher, and Miss Lily Frances Branham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Branham, Jr., wore dainty models of flesh colored tulle, the skirts of which extended from inset yokes, introducing ruffles arranged in points. Showers of ribbon fell from the shoulders. They carried baskets of rose petals, which they scattered in the path of the bride.

The Lovely Bride.

The lovely bride, who entered with her father, Julian M. Fluker, was

Miss Eckford Gives Luncheon at Club For Miss Harvey

Among the lovely social affairs planned in compliment to Miss Mary Harvey, whose marriage to John K. Ottley, Jr., will be a fashionable event of February 14, will be the luncheon at which Miss Florence Eckford will entertain at 1 o'clock Friday, February 8, at the Piedmont Driving club. Covers will be placed for Miss Harvey and the members of her wedding party who include Mrs. George McCarty, Miss Sarah Sutherland, Miss Virginia Courts, Miss Florence Jenkins, of Columbus, Miss Mary Showmaker, of Memphis, Tenn.; Miss Mary Dudley Pittman, of Raleigh, N. C., and the hostess, Miss Eckford.

met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Russell Stokes, brother of the groom. She was never more lovely than in her wedding robes of deep ivory satin fashioned along graceful lines. The skirt, which extended from beneath a large bow in the back, formed the train. Shimmering introduced on the waist between the two narrow corded panels which extended from the front beyond the waist line. The inset "V" yoke was elaborately beaded in pearls. The long sleeves were a feature of the lovely model. A soft silk tulle veil showered along the edge with orange blossoms was caught to the lustrous hair of the bride in cap shape beneath a bandeau of orange blossoms and a diagonal of white ribbon. She wore a shoulder bouquet of sweet heart roses and valley lilies.

Beautiful Costumes.

Mrs. Julian M. Fluker, mother of the bride, wore a becoming model of beige lace combined with tulle, tiers of lace being introduced on the skirt. She wore a shoulder bouquet of sweet heart roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. W. A. Stokes, mother of the groom, was gowned in black georgette, fashioned with long waist, featuring a diagonal drape from the left shoulder to the waist, and a pleated skirt. A rhinestone ornament was worn on the shoulder. Her bouquet was of sweet heart roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. W. M. Timms, aunt of the bride, wore blue chiffon, fashioned with gracefully draped skirt. Miss Leila Fincher, aunt of the bride, wore a model of beige georgette, featuring a draped skirt. Miss Horace L. Fincher, aunt of the bride, was gowned in flame-colored chiffon, fashioned with graceful skirt introducing drapery at the side. The velvet grille of the same shade was caught with a rhinestone ornament at the waist. Miss C. E. Caldwell, grandmother of the bride, was gowned in black chiffon and lace.

Miss Jeanette Fluker, sister of the bride, wore a peach chiffon dress with scalloped bertha and skirt. Tiers of chiffon were introduced on the skirt.

Mrs. Eldred Gessen, of Savannah, aunt of the groom, wore black georgette.

Mrs. H. G. Willis, of Savannah, wore black lace.

Mrs. Courtney Thorpe, of Savannah, was gowned in black tulle.

The Wedding Trip.

Following the ceremony the young couple left for a wedding trip to Florida. From Jacksonville Mr. and Mrs. Stokes will tour the state by motor, going afterwards to Havana, Cuba. They will make their home in Atlanta.

The bride's going-away costume was an ensemble of mint green and tan, the dress being a figured print of green and tan. Badger cuffs were effectively introduced on the green coat. With this she wore a green felt hat and accessories of tan.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Riley, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Almond and Miss Almond, of Nashville, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. George F. Smith and Miss Dorothy Smith, of New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Thorpe, of Savannah; Mrs. Eldred Gessen, Mrs. H. G. Willis and Mrs. Courtney Thorpe, all of Savannah.

Pi Pi Club's Formal Dance Is Brilliant Social Event

Members of the Pi Pi club were hosts Friday evening at their annual formal dance, which was held at the Piedmont Driving club. Preceding the ball Miss Frances Boykin entertained the members of the club and their escorts at a buffet supper at her home on West Andrews drive. Following the dance Miss Jane Sharp was hostess at a breakfast at her home on Rivers road.

The Driving club was artistically decorated for the occasion, the Valentine idea being suggested throughout. A massive rope of smilax outlined the hall, entwining gracefully the stately white columns, each of which was marked by palms, topped with electrified hearts, showered with narrow ribbons and tiny red daisies. In the center of the hall hung two massive red crepe paper hearts. Over the handsome fireplace was the shield of Pi Pi, encircled by the club motto, above which was suspended a luxuriant garland of smilax studded with electric lights. A similar garland was suspended from the chandelier at the end of the hall, where Rudy Brown's orchestra assembled. Banks of palms marked each side of the entrance of the doorway and the corners of the hall. The Valentine idea was introduced through the dance cards, which were embellished with the Greek letters Pi Pi encircled in red hearts.

The Lead Out.

The feature of the ball was the Pi Pi "lead out," when only the Pi Pi members and their escorts occupied the floor. The officers and their escorts included Miss Harriet Wynne, president, who danced with Warner Mizell; Miss Ida Nevin with Jack Hastings; Miss Margaret Underwood with Morgan Sutton and Miss Frances Boykin with Gardner Allen.

Miss Wynne wore an exquisite dancing frock of flesh colored chiffon trimmed with a graceful bertha of seed pearls. A cluster of orchids adorned her left shoulder.

Miss Nevin was gowned in madonna blue tulle, fashioned bouffant, with graceful long hair in back than in the front. She wore a shoulder bouquet of orchids.

Miss Underwood wore a becoming model of chignon fashioned with effective shadowing from flesh to deep orchid and a skirt of black, introducing the graceful un-

Patton-Northman Marriage Is Announced at Reception

An interesting feature of the brilliant reception given Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Hotton was the announcement of the marriage of Miss Hazel May Patton to Alfred Henri Northman, of Copenhagen, Denmark. The wedding was solemnized by Dr. Luther Rice Christie at his home December 24, 1928, the only attendants being Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Hotton.

The bride is an attractive brunette and was lovely in her wedding gown of satin-back crepe, fashioned with basque waist, the skirt falling in many tiers to form the popular uneven hemline. Her bouquet was of bride's roses and valley lilies. Mrs. Hotton was gowned in chabrie green tulle, combined with tulle, and carried pink sweetheart roses and valley lilies.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Walter Patton and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John May, of Knoxville, Tenn., where she lived before coming to Atlanta three years ago. Her charming personality has won for her popularity among the social and church circles of Atlanta. She is president of the Y. W. A. of the Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist church and for the past year has been vice president of the City Y. W. A. of Atlanta.

Mr. Northman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Northman, of Copenhagen, Denmark. He holds a responsible position with a local firm and possesses an excellent dramatic tenor voice. He is soloist in the Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist church.

For the occasion of the announcement the house was beautifully decorated in palms and flowers. The handsomely appointed table was centered with a beautiful mound of various colored flowers. On either side burned tall white tapers.

Assisting Mrs. Hotton in entertaining were Miss Thelma Corryell, Miss Imogene Hudson and Miss Kathryn Elbert. During the evening a delightful musical program was rendered, with Miss Irene Lettwich at the piano; Edwin Kane, Raymond Nixon and A. D. Hotton, soloists.

Miss Corryell wore black tulle, fashioned with basque waist and uneven hemline. Her flowers were sweet peas and valley lilies. Miss Hudson's gown was of pink tulle. She wore sweet peas and valley lilies. Miss Elbert was gowned in peach chiffon. Her flowers were sweet peas and valley lilies.

WE DIDN'T HAVE MUCH OF A MEETING TODAY. WE CAN'T FIND THE SKINNY GUY ANYWHERE. I SAID, "THIS IS A BAD BUSINESS, AND I THINK WE OUGHT TO GO UP AND TELL DOC WATERS OR JUDGE GRANBERY ABOUT IT." BUT—

THE FELLOWS SAID WAIT TILL TOMORROW. ANYWAY THIS IS GROUND HOG DAY AND ANOTHER DAY. KNOWS WHERE THERE IS A GROUND HOG HOLE, AND THE FELLOWS WANT TO WATCH IT TO SEE THE GROUND HOG COME OUT.

BUT SHUCKS, THERE AIN'T ANY GROUND HOG COMING OUT LIKE THE AND ANOTHER DAY. I HAD A LOT OF MAIL TO READ, SO I LET THE FELLOWS GO WITHOUT ME. I STAYED HOME TO GET MY WRITING DONE AND READ MY MAIL.

AND HERE IS A LETTER FROM A NEW MEMBER IN KANSAS. WE ARE SENDING HER A BOOK OF OUR ADVENTURES ON THE RIVER BANK. WHY DON'T YOU WRITE A LETTER AND SEE IF IT GETS PRINTED ON THIS PAGE. Sincerely, Dorothy Mildred Wolfe.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

TIMMY HAS FUN.
BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

In manners one is seldom pleasing. Who always takes delight in teasing. —Old Mother-Nature.

Timmy the Flying Squirrel had also moved into Farmer Brown's barn through the bad weather. That barn was a wonderful place for a Flying Squirrel. He could always find plenty to eat there. It might blow and snow and snow and blow outside, but inside it would always be comfortable. Timmy had moved into the barn before Spooky the Owl did. He had known when Spooky moved in and for some time he had managed to keep out of sight. There were so many rats and mice in the big barn that Spooky was occupied with catching them most of the time. So it was that he hadn't seen Timmy the Flying Squirrel until quite by accident he discovered him one evening. He had tried to catch him and had failed. That had given Timmy a lot of confidence. The result was that after that he didn't try to keep out of sight of Spooky. In fact, he began to get a lot of fun out of teasing Spooky. He would run out on some big beam, or on a rafter, in the roof and then wait until Spooky would try to catch him. Then, just at the right instant, he would make one of those wonderful flying leaps of his and sail clear across the barn. Usually Spooky would fly after him, but he never could get his claws on Timmy. It got so after a while that Spooky

HELPED AT CHANGE OF LIFE

MRS. CORA CALAHAN

"I am going through the Change of Life. At times I would cry for hours. I got tired of going to the doctor so I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Before I had taken the first bottle I began to get better. I have taken eight bottles now. I feel that it has saved my life, also doctor's bills. I work for a family of six, washing, cooking and do all my own work. People say I look like 25."—Mrs. Cora Calahan.

"Lydia E. Pinkham did for me what doctors failed to do. When the Change of Life began I was very poorly. Now at 55 I do all my own work, attend two dances a week and it is hard to make people believe I am over 40. I never see a woman in ill health but I advocate your medicine because I know its value. Every woman should take it, not just for a month or two but until they have passed the critical period."—Mrs. F. C. Helming.

of these days. Spooky would say to himself, "He is going to get very bold, and when he gets very bold he will become careless. I can afford to wait. I will just pay no attention to him at all." This is just what Spooky did. Then there was no fun for Timmy. Timmy grew bolder and bolder. He would jump from a rafter high up in the barn and sail down right under where Spooky was perched. Sometimes he would jump from behind Spooky and sail right past him. It was done in the most provoking way. You know how Timmy sails. He jumps from some high place, stretches his four legs out until he is almost flat. Between each foreleg and hindleg is a strip of thin skin covered with fur on the outer side. When he stretches his arms and legs out, of course, he stretches that skin out and that helps to hold him up in the air as he goes sailing at a long slant. So he can jump very long distances, gliding or coasting on the air. Always, however, he is going down and when he alights he is far below the place he starts from.

As I have said, Timmy grew bolder and bolder. There was no fun in teasing Spooky if Spooky refused to be teased. At last he grew so bold that he ran out on the very rafter on which Spooky was perched. Spooky looked as if he were asleep. But Spooky didn't open his eyes, so Timmy ventured a little nearer this time. This was exciting and so it was fun. Exciting things usually are fun. He felt very brave and very bold. At last, he was almost to Spooky and still Spooky didn't move. Then, looking down, Timmy spied a mouse on the grain bin. He forgot Spooky and leaped over to look at that mouse. It was a bad time to be forgetting. Yes, sir, it was a bad time to be forgetting.

Now, all this time Spooky the Screech Owl had not been asleep at all. He had merely pretended. He was doing what is called "watchful waiting." He had not missed a movement of Timmy. "I believe my chance has come," he muttered under his breath. "Anyway, I'll give that Squirrel a fright he won't get over in a hurry." (Copyright, 1929, by The Constitution.)

GOV. L. G. HARDMAN AND FAMILY LEAVE FOR FLORIDA TRIP

Governor L. G. Hardman, with Mrs. Hardman and their young daughter, left Atlanta Friday morning for Florida, where they will spend some time while the governor recuperates from a recent severe attack of influenza.

Exactly what parts of Florida would be visited, or how long the governor would be away, was not disclosed by attaches of the gubernatorial offices at the capitol. It was intimated that the state of the governor's health would decide the length of his trip and that they probably would travel to various sections of the state as their pleasure directed. Quincy, Fla., was understood to be the destination for the first leg of the trip.

Emory Head Announces $10,000 Scholarship Fund For Coweta County Boys

A $10,000 scholarship fund for the benefit of students from Coweta county, was announced Friday by Dr. Harvey W. Cox, president of Emory university.

The fund was given to Emory by Mrs. Berryman T. Thompson and Mrs. Lucie Thompson, both of whom are daughters of the late Berryman T. Thompson, for whom the gift will be named. Accrued interest will form a scholarship loan fund for "deserving" boys and girls from Coweta county who wish to attend Emory.

POULTRY SALE OF JACKSON COUNTY SHATTERS RECORD

Jackson, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—The poultry sale held in Jackson Friday broke all local records for tonnage and receipts.

Eight thousand thirty-six pounds netted farmers $1,907.65. More than 7,000 pounds was loaded at Hawkinsville, and over 12,000 pounds at Cochran. The tonnage for the three places amounting to more than 27,000 pounds, enough for two cars.

NEW CLUE UNCOVERED IN HOLLEMAN DEATH

Macon, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—A hat that fell from the head of one of the bandits who shot and fatally wounded Lester D. Holleman at his filling station on the Dixie highway Tuesday night, has furnished detectives a new clue to follow in their investigation of that murder.

The hat was manufactured for a chain of stores that operate in the college towns of Champaign and Chicago, Ill., and Madison, Wis.

Two suspects who had been arrested at Eastman, Ga., and who gave the names of Ulan Lunsford and Frank Appleby, of Phenix City, Ala., were brought here by detectives today from Perry, Ga., and after a further investigation they were allowed to return to their homes.

The fact that Appleby had written his mother letters from almost every town through which he and his companion passed on their way from home to Eastman, Ga., where they were arrested, did much to convince authorities here of the innocence of the pair. Mrs. Katy Appleby, mother of Frank, and his two sisters, Wilma and Myrna, came here to take the boys home.

"If I ever get back to Phenix City," Appleby told detectives, "I will never go away from there again." He had been traveling only to find his father, now of Eastman, and to try to procure work, he explained.

The hat which police hope to find a fitting lead, fell from the head of the man who shot Holleman as the gunman ran to catch the car in which he escaped. Mrs. Holleman, who ran from the house a few yards distant when she heard shots, saw the hat fly from its owner's head as the car sped away in second gear.

The hat is brown in color and is well worn and greasy. Inside the band was found a folded paper torn from the advertising section of a cheap magazine to reduce the size of the band.

According to witnesses the automobile was occupied by three persons as it drove away.

Game Liberated In State Reserve By Peter Twitty

Dalhousie, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—State Game Commissioner Peter S. Twitty Friday liberated 40 white-tail deer, several wild turkeys and a number of fox squirrels on the state's game refuge near here.

The game had been kept in corrals and pens on the state's preserve for several weeks, awaiting the completion of details in plans to stock the woods of north Georgia with these species, which the commissioner said, have become rare in this section of the state.

The game and fish department has included in its program the planting of thousands of game fish in the mountain streams also, the commissioner said, to afford people of the northern part of the state equal sport to that available in the waters of the lower section. Steps in this direction have already been taken, according to Mr. Twitty, who said that the young fish have been secured and now are in the new hatchery at Summerville. Mr. Twitty and his party will spend the week-end in the woods of the reservation, planning to return to Atlanta Sunday.

NOTORIOUS FUGITIVE OF VALDOSTA KILLED

Valdosta, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—The report of the killing of Haywood Register near Palm Beach by Sheriff "Bo" Baker on Monday, was of much interest in this city. Register was part of the notorious Ashley bandits which operated before Register was tried and convicted of murder in Florida and sentenced to serve life.

About three years ago, Register and one of his pals, named Uptegrove, were in the forests south of Valdosta for some time. It was said they were in hiding at that time. Register was being hunted in connection with a murder for which he was later tried and convicted.

While in retirement near here, Uptegrove came to Valdosta and employed Jim Wilson, a negro taxi driver, to take him to some point across the Florida line.

After reaching a desolate portion of the road in Hamilton county, Florida, Register and Uptegrove are alleged to have assaulted Wilson, robbing him of his money and his automobile. Later the men were arrested and identified and held at Jasper until it was found that they were wanted at Sanford for murder.

Register was convicted and after commencing his life sentence made his escape. Recently he walked into an ambush near West Palm Beach and was killed while resisting arrest.

Sidney Lanier Bust Unveiling To Be Sunday

Macon, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—Unveiling of the Sidney Lanier bust at the Washington Memorial library Sunday afternoon will be a public event. Mrs. Walter D. Lamar, president of the Lanier Memorial association, stated today.

The unveiling will begin promptly at 3 o'clock. Dr. Edward P. Mims, of Vanderbilt university, is to be the principal speaker of the occasion. Notable people are beginning to arrive for the ceremonies of Sunday afternoon.

MERCER DEBATERS WILL MAKE TOUR TO SIX COLLEGES

Macon, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—A forensic tour in May on which six colleges will be debated by Will Ed Smith, of Fitzgerald, and Sam Overstreet, Savannah, has been scheduled for the Mercer university speakers, it was announced today by Professor Lewis H. Fowler, debate coach.

On this trip, Mercer representatives will meet debaters of the University of Georgia, in Athens; Presbyterian college, in Clinton, S. C.; North Carolina State college, in Raleigh, N. C.; Duke university, in Durham, N. C.; Richmond college, in Richmond, Va.; and William and Mary college, in Williamsburg, Va.

The subject for debate with these colleges will be: Resolved, That Expert speakers, Three to Five in Number, Shall Be Substituted for the Present Plan of Trial by Jury.

FIVE-STORY BUILDING OPENS AT GRIFFIN

MACON MAN ON TRIAL FOR ASSAULT CHARGE

Macon, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—Trial of Henry Churchwell, South Macon grocer, on the charge of criminal assault on a 14-year-old girl, was started in Bibb superior court today. The girl, who is said to be a mental defective, is alleged to have been criminally attacked on June 3, 1928, when she was taken for a ride in an automobile truck driven by Churchwell.

The accused man is being defended by his brother, Daisy L. Churchwell, an attorney of Jacksonville, Fla. The law firm of McLellan & Jacobs also represents the defendant.

Solicitor General Charles H. Garrett is conducting the prosecution, assisted by Attorney Robert G. Plinkett. A jury was selected and opening statements were made prior to the adjournment for lunch. Approximately 25 witnesses have been summoned by the state and defense.

To that pleasure of entertaining friends add the pleasure of "Canada Dry"
To MAKE the party a little gayer
... to greet your friends a little more warmly ... to make the bridge game a little more pleasant and the talk which follows a little more vivacious ... serve "Canada
Dry" when you entertain friends.
What zest—
like that a hike in the mountains gives you! How refreshing—like the breeze which blows up the valley!
And its keen,
"dry" flavor, distinctive like that of some rare old wine!
Its mellowness comes from the blending and balancing of absolutely pure ingredients. Its wonderful sparkle is the result of careful and exact carbonation. It is served in countless homes, in this country, in Canada. Is it served in yours? Order it in the Hostess
Package of 12 bottles.

A black and white cartoon illustration. On the right, a woman with dark hair in a bun, wearing a dark, long-sleeved dress, sits at a table. She is looking down at an open book or letter on the table. A speech bubble above her head contains the text "IT'S FROM TOM CARR —". To the left, a man in a uniform with a cap and a backpack stands with his back to the viewer, holding a book or envelope that has "U.S. MAIL" written on it. The scene is set indoors, with a large pillar on the left and a doorway in the background.

GASOLINE ALLEY—SKEEZIX BELIEVES IN SIGNS

A cartoon by Charles Schulz. A woman in a polka-dot dress is talking to a man who is carrying a small child on his shoulders. The woman is saying, "AHA! LORA IS EATING A PICKLE. THAT'S A SIGN SHE'S IN LOVE." The man and child are looking at her. The man is wearing a white shirt and dark pants. The child is wearing a striped shirt. The woman is wearing a dress with large polka dots. The background is a simple line drawing of a room with a window.

LORA'S IN LOVE, LORA'S IN LOVE!

I AM, AM I?
